4,000 Attend Parade At Newell

NEWELL BEAUTIES. While others huffed and puffed in brow-mopping heat along the parade route in Newell Friday night, these six Newell girls enjoyed a cool ride on a green and white float entered by the Junior Women's Club. They are, left to right, Sharon Railing, Pamela Ronan, Nancy Summers, Nila Summers, "Miss Juniorette," who is sitting, Connie Kirchner and Judy Haddock. A total of 12,000 white napkins were used in decorating the colorful float that won first prize.

An estimated 4,000 persons lined Washington and Grant Sts. in Newell Friday night for the annual firemen's parade, highlight of a week - long celebration that also features a carnival playing at Clark Field through tonight.

Crowds watched 35 units file by in the sweltering heat, and perspiration dripped from many of the marchers — especially youngsters in the Oak Glen High School band laden with heavy instruments.

JUDGING by applause, the 110-piece Oak Glen Band, outfitted in snappy blue and white outfits, gave a crowd-pleasing performance as it moved up Washington St. playing "Cotton Candy" and other peppy numbers.

It was the lone band in the line of march, although the Chester Rebels Drum and Bugle Corps, led by Jimmy Boyd, also provided marching music.

The crowd was also thrilled by two large floats entered by the Newell Junior Women's Club and Hancock County Republicans.

Six young girls rode on the Junior Women's Club's green and white float. The float of the Republicans, in blue, white and silver, had "Freedom of Choice" as its theme, emphasizing the importance of voting.

MARCHING UNITS Comprised mostly of youngsters in colorful costumes made up several other entries. There was also plenty of fire apparatus to keep the children excited, and a convertible at the head of the parade carried Squire Harry Lytton, parade marshal, who tossed candy along the route to the youngsters.

Deputy Paul R. Cowey of the Hancock County sheriff's office and Constable J. Carl Durham of Newell led the parade in their cruisers.

The Oak Glen Band was directed by Floyd Lancia. The band will perform at the New York World's Fair Aug. 17.

State Police March In Streets, Stores Looted By Rioters

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Hundreds of young Negroes rioted fiercely through the night, in what one Negro leader said was a reaction against alleged police brutality, and state troopers moved in today as an uneasy quiet settled on this strife-torn city.

As angry Negroes surged through the streets, battling police, throwing stones, looting stores, and overturning automobiles, officials of this normally placid upstate community declared a state of emergency.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller ordered 200 state police to the scene to assist the embattled city police force, and he also alerted National Guard officials for possible intervention.

More than 80 persons were injured — most of them Negroes —a few of them seriously, and about 80 were arrested. The injured included nine policemen and a fireman.

Some whites joined in the melee, triggered by a police attempt late Friday night to arrest a young Negro at a street dance. The dance was in a predominantly Negro neighborhood on the fringe of the downtown shopping district and just a few blocks east of the Eastman Kodak plant.

Police said the unidentified young man had become drunk and disorderly. But, when they tried to put him in a patrol car, several other young Negroes intervened and a battle developed.

TURNING THE FIRST EARTH for the St. Clair Ave. project, this big shovel started a cut about 2 p. m. Friday at the base of the sheer embankment that separates Highland Colony from the thoroughfare, but went out of action in a few minutes with a broken part. It's part of the equipment moved onto the job site by Herman Bros., Inc., of Youngstown, which holds a $785,788 State Highway Department contract to build three lanes of reinforced concrete paving and a storm drainage system between Princeton Ave. and the city limits. Preliminary work, including removal of trees along the right-of-way, started July 15.

Board To Air 3 Firms' Bids On Surfacing

Canton Company's Offer Seen Low For Annual Work

The Board of Control took under advisement Friday afternoon bids received from three concerns for treating 12,000 square yards in the city's annual low - cost street surfacing program.

The Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co. of Canton submitted the apparent low bid of 34.8 cents per square yard to Acting Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, comprising the board.

Taking into account the 50 per cent share assumed by the city, Ohio Tar's bid would cost about 18 cents a lineal foot for property - owners residing on an 18-foot-wide street.

Last year's contract cost property - owners on similar width streets about 17 cents a lineal foot. The contract was held by Ohio Valley Paving Corp. of St. Clairsville on a price of 33.9 cents per square yard.

Jury Deliberates

Verdict Weighed In Hoffa's Trial

CHICAGO (AP) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa awaited today the verdict of a U.S. district court jury deciding whether he and six codefendants are guilty of mail fraud and conspiracy.

Hoffa, 51, was silent after the eight men and four women—one a last-minute replacement—took under consideration 13 weeks of testimony and mountains of documentary evidence Friday night.

The seven men are charged in a 21 - count indictment with fraudulently obtaining more than $20 million from a Teamsters pension fund and diverting $1 million to personal use. There are 294 possible verdicts.

Hoffa snapped, "No comment," when asked for a prediction and was overheard telling the codefendants to say nothing of the trial.

The lone Negro on the jury, Rayford Lee, was dismissed shortly before Judge Richard B. Austin instructed the jury.

The court was informed that Lee's mother had suffered a broken hip when she fell in her home. After a conference between the judge and attorneys, Lee was dismissed.

The jury deliberated in a room adjacent to the courtroom. A host of U.S. marshals patroled in the corridor. The courtroom was sealed.

During the 13 weeks of trial a transcript of more than 16,000 pages was compiled, 114 government witnesses testified and 22 witnesses appeared for the defense.

Quartet Pretended To Be Salesmen In Area Home Repairs

Four East Coast men linked to various offenses by Pennsylvania State Police, including one suspected of an Atlantic City slaying, are being held today in Beaver County Jail while authorities and FBI agents investigate their backgrounds.

Officers of the Chippewa Barracks of Pennsylvania State Police and the FBI said they have linked the quartet with various offenses on the East Coast, ranging from fraud, burglary, larceny, issuing bad checks and receiving stolen goods.

When taken into custody at Conley's Motor Lodge near the Beaver Valley Interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, the suspects were posing as home improvement salesmen, State Police said.

Their arrests followed when an alert desk clerk at the motor lodge decided the quartet was "acting suspiciously," and

Leftist Sets Protest Move In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—A self-described Communist says he will lead an anti-police demonstration in Harlem today despite a ban on it by Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy.

Murphy announced the ban at police headquarters Friday night while about 300 pickets marched outside chanting charges of police brutality.

He said he fears mass street meetings this weekend could touch off racial violence like the bloody rioting that started last weekend.

A swelling chorus of protests against the ban came from civil rights leaders, many of whom have been pleading for moderation in the crisis.

They demanded a meeting with Mayor Robert F. Wagner, urging him to rescind the ban and reprimand Murphy. However, they also opposed the planned demonstration.

William Epton, a Negro who says "I am a Communist," declared he would head the Harlem Defense Council in a march late today.

Murphy said he barred the demonstration "in view of the tragic and unfortunate events of the last five days to preserve and improve the uneasy peace which now prevails."

Negro leader Bayard Rustin said Murphy's order would result in "a disaster" and lead to "the most vicious kind of behavior."

Johnson Sets Campaign Theme, Including Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has laid out his path for the fall campaign along the high road of politics, stressing peace, prosperity, moderation and avoiding personal attacks on his Republican opponent, Barry Goldwater.

He said all this again Friday in a televised news conference.

But, at the same time Johnson just couldn't resist a chance to needle the Arizona senator on the role in the campaign of civil rights, civilian control over nuclear weapons and lawlessness in the streets.

The news conference covered a variety of topics. But it always returned to one subject—Johnson's campaign next fall against Barry Goldwater for the presidency.

Asked if he expected "a rather rough campaign," Johnson replied: "Most campaigns are rough campaigns. I'm an old campaigner. I have been at it 30 years. One of the first things I learned, at least so far as I am concerned, is the people are not much interested in my personal opinion of my opponent."

Speaking only two hours before he met with Goldwater to discuss the racial question and other subjects, Johnson said, "I do not believe that any issue which is before the people can be eliminated from the campaign in a free society in an election year. After all, that is the purpose of elections, to discuss the issues."

Later, the two men met for 16 minutes and released a short statement saying they agreed "racial tensions should be avoided" in the campaign ahead.

Johnson, at the news conference, told reporters:

"No word or deed of mine, that I am aware of, has ever—or I hope will ever—lent any aid or any comfort to this small minority who would take the law into their own hands."

Senate Creates Conduct Investigation Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a surprise sequel to the Bobby Baker case, the Senate has voted to set up a permanent bipartisan committee to investigate charges of improper or illegal conduct among its members and employes.

The proposal, offered by Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., was adopted by a 61-19 vote Friday as an amendment to the Senate's rules.

Leaders of both parties were caught by surprise by this development. It left up in the air whether action now will be sought on a resolution to require senators and top Senate employes to disclose their major outside financial interests each year.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said Senate attorneys will study whether the resolution is needed or requires alteration in view of Friday's birth of an investigating committee.

Wellsville Man Pleads Guilty In 'Slips' Case

Anthony Joseph Corbisello, 49, operator of Corby's Place poolroom on Main St., Wellsville, changed his innocent plea to guilty at a hearing in U. S. District Court at Cleveland Friday to federal charges of transporting football pool slips across a state line. Judge James C. Connell deferred sentencing.

Corbisello and his brother, Benjamin J. Corbisello, also of Main St., were indicted and arrested in April on warrants charging interstate transportation of wagering paraphernalia after a six-month investigation by the FBI.

Police were called to the home of Mrs. Betty Perry, 27, after she reportedly told a neighbor she had killed her children. The youngsters, Stacey, 10 months; Carl, 3; Scott, 4 and Susan, 6, were found dead with plastic bags tied over their heads.

Police said Mrs. Perry told them she killed the children because she was despondent over money problems and a pending divorce.

Authorities said their preliminary investigation showed that the plastic bags had been tied over the children's heads while they slept.

Mrs. Perry was taken to the Dayton State Hospital for safe keeping. Efforts were being made to learn the whereabouts of the husband.

Dr. Sheppard Lawyer Cites Woman Killer

CLEVELAND (AP)—Samuel H. Sheppard would be cleared of a second degree murder conviction and his first wife's killer —an unidentified woman—would be found if a second trial were held, attorney F. Lee Bailey, said Friday night.

"In my opinion, there is no question but what it was a woman," Bailey said. He said it was his opinion that the blows that killed Marilyn Sheppard on July 4, 1954, were too light to have been struck by a man.

Bailey made his remarks on "Contact", a local radio show, in the presence of Sheppard and his present wife, the former Ariane Tebbenjohans.

Bailey also said he believes the woman was accompanied by a man, the one Sheppard said he struggled with on the beach near their Bay Village home.

advisers, and his followers, will follow the same course that I intend to follow, which is a course of rebuffing and rebuking bigots and those who seek to excite and exploit tensions, then it will be most welcome."

Asked about Goldwater's suggestion that at least the North Atlantic Treaty Organization commander should be given more authority in the use of nuclear weapons, Johnson said this was the president's responsibility.

"The control of the nuclear weapons is one of the most solemn responsibilities of the president of the United States—the man who is president can never get away from that responsibility and can never forget it," Johnson said.

"The American people rely on his good judgment. They want that authority vested in a civilian. They do not expect to abandon this duty to military men in the field," he added.

Asked about Goldwater's plan to make lawlessness and violence in the streets a campaign issue, Johnson said, "Well, I am against sin. I am against lawlessness and I am very much opposed to violence. I think we have to put a stop to it."

He said the federal government already was doing all it could to stop the violence.

On other subjects, Johnson announced a new aircraft system, the SR71, an advanced plane capable of worldwide reconnaissance, able to fly three times the speed of sound and operate at 80,000 feet;

—Said it was true that there was "danger and provocation" from North Viet Nam and that "such provocation could force a response, but it is also true that the United States seeks no wider war;"

—Disputed a charge made by French President Charles de Gaulle that the United States has attempted to dominate Europe. Johnson said, "The United States has never had any interest whatever in trying to dominate Europe or any other area of the world;"

—Rejected a De Gaulle proposal for a four-power conference on Viet Nam and Laos, saying there could be no new conference "until there is demonstrated upon the part of those who are ignoring the agreements reached at the conference table, some desire to carry out their agreements;"

—Announced that in the year ending July 30 American export of farm products broke all records, climbing to $6 billion and said this demonstrated the ability of American agriculture to "succeed in highly competitive world markets."

37.9 cents a square yard on the 1964 program. The other offer, 36.3 cents, was filed by the Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry.

The total labor and material price of Ohio Tar's bid is $4,182. The total cost on Ohio Valley's offer was $4,548, while Tri-State's bid figures out to $4,356.

It is the third consecutive year of the low-cost surfacing program. The city's share is paid out of income tax revenue.

Sections of 20 streets are scheduled for improvement this year. In the 1963 program, 38,000 square yards of surface were treated.

The board also took under advisement three bids filed yesterday in furnishing 25,000 gallons of asphalt material for seal-coating blacktop streets.

Ohio Valley Paving submitted the apparent low bid of 13.3 cents a gallon for the material delivered to East Liverpool in transport truck lots. For delivery in railroad tank car lots at a Chester siding, it quoted a price of 13.8 cents a gallon.

Ohio Tar bid 13.7 cents a gallon on the material delivered to a Chester siding. It quoted 16.4 cents a gallon if the asphalt is delivered to a trailer in East Liverpool. The company said it would rent the city for $20 weekly a trailer suitable for storing and heating the oil.

Tri-State bid 15 cents a gallon on the asphalt, delivered to a Chester siding. The heating and pumping of the oil and the demurrage on the tank car would be the city's responsibility, it said.

Willshaw is acting mayor while Mayor Merrill D. Hall is in Florida. He and Vodrey indicated they will study the bids before awarding a contract.

Mrs. Ruth Crawford, the mayor's secretary, acted as clerk of the board in place of George S. Bloomgren.

qualified electors. Registration has been "sporadic" since the books were opened again following the primaries in May, but there has been no real rush, he added.

Voters may register Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p. m. at the board's office. The office also operates from 9 a. m. until noon on Saturdays.

The primary purpose of the board's meeting on Aug. 3 will be to award contracts for ballots and poll books and make other arrangements for a special election on Sept. 15 on a $4,370,958 building program in the East Liverpool School District.

Voters will be asked to approve a $3,380,000 bond issue and acceptance of a $990,958 interest-free loan from the state.

County Auditor Kenneth Bell has certified to the Election Board that a 4.15-mill levy would be required for 23 years to retire the bond issue. A half-mill levy would be required to repay the loan, making the total millage 4.65.

The two questions will appear on a consolidated ballot as a single proposition, tied together with the word "and." A single "X" will indicate the voter's preference on both.

O'Hanlon indicated the board expects to employ precinct personnel who have served in the preceding year. Although their one-year appointments run out on the date of the special election, the judges and clerks will be utilized rather than newly-appointed personnel, he said.

The board expects to employ full six-member precinct crews in the 43 polling places because of the importance of the issue involved, he said. Under certain circumstances in special elections, state law allows an "economy plan" of four workers per precinct.

Campaign Staff Finds Pole Activity Illegal

FERGUS FALLS, Minn. (AP) —Workers for a congressional candidate had just tacked up 180 campaign posters this week when an anonymous caller told City Attorney Philip R. Monson to look up a 1911 ordinance.

He did. It prohibits displaying handbills or posters without a city license. The posters came down. Police said they couldn't recall the ordinance being enforced before.

Wellsville Man Was 84

Charles J. Russell Dies; Former Loan Firm Head

Charles J. Russell, 915 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, former assistant manager of the Riggs Wholesale Co. of East Liverpool and a former president of the Central Federal Savings & Loan Co. of Wellsville, died Friday at 9:55 a.m. at the Osteopathic Hospital. He had been a patient since June 28 and had been in failing health several years. He was 84.

A native of Pittsburgh, Mr. Russell was the son of James A. Russell and Elizabeth Kutter Russell and resided in Wellsville for 61 years.

He worked for four years for the former Wellsville Works of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Co., then became associated with the Riggs Co. when it was in Wellsville, and served 40 years before retiring. He was a member of the company's Board of Directors.

He served as president of the Wellsville savings and loan firm 10 years and was a member of its board. He was a former member of the Wellsville Board of Health and served at one time on City Council and the Civil Service Commission. He was director of the first Chamber of Commerce of Wellsville in 1908 and served as secretary of Draft Board 3 during World War II. He volunteered for service in the Spanish-American War but was not called.

Mr. Russell was a member of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church of Wellsville and served as a member of the Session for over 40 years and several years on the Board of Trustees. He was the oldest elder of the church.

He was a member and past master of Wellsville Masonic Lodge 180, Wellsville Chapter 55 of Royal Arch Masons, the Jefferson Consistory of Scottish Rite of Steubenville and Pilgrim Commandery 55 of Knights Templar. He was married Sept. 3, 1902, to the former Pearl Gamble, who survives at the home.

In addition to his widow, he leaves a daughter, Mrs. Edwin C. (Carolyn) Price of Warren, and a brother, the Rev. J. Rodney Russell of Paoli, Pa., a retired Presbyterian minister.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the McLean Funeral Home by the Rev. J. C. Little of Canfield, a former pastor of the Wellsville church. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery, Wellsville.

Friends may call tonight and Sunday at the Wellsville funeral home where Masonic services will be conducted Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

to bail Hoffa out of a financial crisis.

The government charges that Hoffa had put $400,000 cash from his home local, 299 in Detroit, into the Florida National Bank in Orlando, which made a loan of $400,000 to Sun Valley.

When the project began to fail in 1958, the government said, the defendants conspired to obtain loans from the pension fund to bail out Sun Valley and retrieve Local 299's money.

Miss Brenda Rose Bosco Weds Andrew Bertagnolli

Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church in Washington was the scene of the wedding of Miss Brenda Rose Bosco and Andrew E. Bertagnolli with the Fr. James A. Finan, pastor, officiating for the double-ring ceremony June 27.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Bosco of Park Way, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Bertagnolli of Rock Springs, Wyo.

The altar was banked with cybotium fern and vases of white stock and orchids. Each pew was marked with bridal orchids and white satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length sheath gown of peau de soie. The fitted bodice of Chantilly lace was fashioned with a modified Sabrina neckline and short sleeves, embroidered with seed pearls and crystal beads. The Empire-style chapel train was appliqued with Chantilly lace re-embroidered with seed pearls and crystals.

Her shoulder-length veil of imported silk illusion was held in place by a headpiece of rose petals accented with pearls and crystals. She carried a cascade bouquet of orchids touched with smilax and bougainvillea. In observing the familiar traditions, she wore an heirloom pearl pin 200 years old, which belongs to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Clendenning.

Miss Janet Hodges of Elizabethtown, Ky., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Ardythe Becker of Crown Point, Ind., Miss Leslie Ferren of Lakewood and Miss Nancy Vodrey of East Liverpool. They wore full - length gowns of Irish linen styled with bell-shaped skirts. Organdy inserts accented the sleeves and neckline. White linen Dior bows formed their headpieces. They carried cascades of white orchids and smilax.

Edward J. Bertagnolli served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Charles R. Bosco and Stephen M. Bosco, brothers of the bride, and Edward Dahl of Bethesda, Md.

MRS. A. E. BERTAGNOLLI

PURSUIT OF COMFORT

Most homes that are decorated and furnished in the Early American manner are fine examples of good taste, relaxed common sense and exemplary comfort. These homes are not slavish copies of their counterparts of the past. And while much of the furniture has been modified to meet the demands of today's casual living, as a style, it still retains the warmth, the friendliness and the gracious informality that has stood the test of generations.

These qualities shine forth in the Early American living area sketched above. Large, roomy sofa with unusual cane sides invites comfortable hours of luxurious relaxation. Chairside commodes serve as lamp tables. Desk placed beneath the built-in book shelves gives the illusion of a highboy. Side chairs with splat backs and upholstered box seats prove to be happy travelers — may be easily moved into the conversation group when needed.

Boston rocker, gold on black, adds a note of whimsey, not to mention the comfort it contributes.

Color scheme of muted apricot and soft sprout green imparts a feeling af warmth and informal elegance to the setting. Light filters through sheer glass panels by day, draw drapes close out darkness when light falls.

Green wall-to-wall carpet is on the pale side but presents no problem for it has been treated to resist soil and stains.

Purchasing furniture is not a casual, every day occurance with you, we know. You can come in here and shop with confidence. We assure you we have chosen every piece we offer you with an eye to fine styling, high quality and unquestionable value. Our welcome mat is always out.

British Dancers Riot, Chase Beat Musicians

BLACKPOOL, England (AP) —The Rolling Stones, a group of beat musicians, fled from a dance hall stage Friday night as youthful rioters wrecked their instruments and battled police called to quell the disturbance.

The outbreak flared when one of the long-haired group aimed a kick at a youth who tried to clamber onto the stage.

The cheers of 7,000 dancers turned to boos and the musicians fled as irate teenagers swarmed the stage.

Old-time cooks used to grease an iron griddle by inserting a piece of salt pork on a fork and rubbing it over the hot surface.

Open House Set By Couple For Golden Wedding

PURSUIT OF COMFORT

Most homes that are decorated and furnished in the Early American manner are fine examples of good taste, relaxed common sense and exemplary comfort. These homes are not slavish copies of their counterparts of the past. And while much of the furniture has been modified to meet the demands of today's casual living, as a style, it still retains the warmth, the friendliness and the gracious informality that has stood the test of generations.

These qualities shine forth in the Early American living area sketched above. Large, roomy sofa with unusual cane sides invites comfortable hours of luxurious relaxation. Chairside commodes serve as lamp tables. Desk placed beneath the built-in book shelves gives the illusion of a highboy. Side chairs with splat backs and upholstered box seats prove to be happy travelers — may be easily moved into the conversation group when needed.

Boston rocker, gold on black, adds a note of whimsey, not to mention the comfort it contributes.

Color scheme of muted apricot and soft sprout green imparts a feeling af warmth and informal elegance to the setting. Light filters through sheer glass panels by day, draw drapes close out darkness when light falls.

Green wall-to-wall carpet is on the pale side but presents no problem for it has been treated to resist soil and stains.

Purchasing furniture is not a casual, every day occurance with you, we know. You can come in here and shop with confidence. We assure you we have chosen every piece we offer you with an eye to fine styling, high quality and unquestionable value. Our welcome mat is always out.

Civil Rights Issue Closed

The civil rights bill that had been debated was approved and signed into law. The issue was closed when that happened.

One thing this Republic should not tolerate is agitators who keep open and debatable public questions that have been officially and legally disposed of.

Irreconcilable Southerners pulled that trick for a century after the Civil War settled the rebellion of the Confederacy. They continued to agitate the issue of Negro rights after that had been settled by constitutional amendment.

They are still stalling off the U.S. Supreme Court's order on school desegregation.

They continue to talk about states' rights as if they were still threshing out the difference between a federation of sovereign states and a nation in the Constitutional Convention of 1789.

CIVIL RIGHTS is not an issue. The issue has been closed.

Why has not been settled is whether the nation has enough responsible leadership in public offices to guarantee conscientious enforcement of the laws now on the books.

The situation calls for a high order of discipline on the part of both whites and Negroes. They have not proved they are capable in all ways and in all places of orderly behavior.

It calls for an alert and sensitive public conscience that will cringe at a flout law attitude.

The Republic can be destroyed by irreconcilability in 1964 as surely as it almost was destroyed by irreconcilability years ago.

THE ONLY thing that can save it now is the thing that saved it then — the determination of masses of loyal Americans to keep their dream from being shattered by those who never shared it.

Civil rights is not an issue in the 1964 national campaign. Anyone who disregards the fact this issue has been closed by congressional action is doing a grave public disservice.

And anyone who tries to twist outbreaks of civil disorder into evidence that the civil rights issue is still debatable is making a cruel distortion of fact.

All that remains debatable is what needs to be done and what can be done — not the principle of civil rights.

A Lesson In Arithmetic

There is a lesson in arithmetic for all of us in the 1965 city budget, for which a public hearing was held today in Auditor Lawrence Zollinger's office.

The budget shows that $206,000 of the general fund's estimated $649,316 receipts next year will be derived from city income tax revenue.

The general fund is the branch that represents many of the essential operations of the municipality, notably the fire and police departments, all the offices at City Hall and many other services, such as street-lighting and school crossing guards.

If owners of real estate were asked to vote additional taxes to provide that $206,000, it would require an increase of more than five mills. One mill in the city tax duplicate brings in about $40,000. It's a matter of simple arithmetic that over five mills would be required to produce the $206,000. The boost in the tax rate would amount to $4 on each $1,000 of valuation.

The latest report issued by State Auditor Roger W. Tracy shows 83 Ohio cities and villages now help finance their operations with an income tax. The source produced more than $86 million in 1963.

While on the subject of tax, most residents must be applauding the action of the city income tax department in taking court action against a comparative few who have avoided compliance with the law through failure to file returns. A consistent campaign is continuing to hale into Municipal Court those who failed to file final returns on 1963 earnings and estimates on 1964 income.

Payment of taxes is one of the duties imposed upon us as Americans in return for the privileges we enjoy under our form of government. One of the basic principles of our system is "equal justice under the law." Those same laws contemplate that no citizen shall enjoy the privileges of the system without sharing in the attendant responsibilities.

Consistent taxpayers must have a better attitude toward the tax since they know no one is being permitted to ignore the law.

More Figures For Planners

Planning groups working on behalf of the city of East Liverpool and Columbiana County as a whole have received another warning note on the monumental job they are facing.

It comes from the Ohio Department of Highway Safety, which advises: Get ready to accommodate in the neighborhood of six million motor vehicles on our streets and highways by 1971 and no later than 1972.

Director Warren C. Nelson says that "Ohio's motor vehicle registration will go over the five million total in 1964 (registration year ending March 31, 1965) and our figures show that we have a constant growth rate of approximately 142,000 vehicles annually."

"This means," he continued, "about a million more cars must be provided with driving and parking spaces over the state. I think the planners will agree with me—they face quite a problem."

Mr. Nelson will get no argument from our planners. All they can do is keep in mind what his figures mean to the city and county as they go about their tasks.

He Shouldn't Say It!

Americans aren't supposed to admit that some of what Prasident De Gaulle says when he gives his French views on the world might be true, least of all what he says about the United States.

How could anyone in American take the man seriously when he says this country has an aversion for all colonialism that is not its own? He must be blinded by his own narrow nationalism not to see the difference between French colonialism in what used to be French Indo-China and American resistance to Communist takeover of that segment of Indo-China now called South Viet Nam.

Certainly he can see the difference between the United States maintaining a garrison state in South Korea and the kind of garrison states France, Britain, Germany, Italy and the Netherlands used to operate in the era of colonialism.

How could he be so blind as not to see the difference between the United States following a giveaway policy that looks like altruism to its taxpayers and the policies of other world powers that lost so much money protecting their tottering colonial empires against Communists and nationalists that they finally wriggled off the hook to avoid bankruptcy?

Only a Charles de Gaulle, with his deep-seated capacity for hurting feelings, could be so blind as not to see that colonialism was the bad thing other nations did, not the good thing the United States is doing.

I am more concerned at the moment about the war in Harlem than about the war in South Viet Nam. The latter can be won whenever we want to risk all-out war in Southeast Asia. But who wants to risk all-out war in Harlem?

This is one of the things a fellow wonders about. Why should he build an elaborate fence to keep his own dogs out of his own flower garden when it would be so much simpler to get rid of the dogs, except flowers are enjoyable only a few weeks each year and dogs are pests all year long?

Is it because I have been voting too long, or are the wives of politicians picked these days with an eye to how they will look on television if hubby makes the varsity? I don't remember seeing dolls in the old days. Matrons, yes. Dolls, no.

There are going to be strange twists to the 1964 campaign, but none stranger than a radio ham, with all the camaraderie that goes with hamming, running for the top office. Will other hams be at ease if they tune into the Arizona senator's wave length?

Until Harlem Negroes feel better about white policemen I'd use nothing there but Negro policemen — not as a concession inimical to long-range police policy but as a concession to the security of white policemen.

Advantage Of A Good Springboard

Ghana's Chief Uses Old Black Magic

By Victor Riesel

ACCRA, Ghana:

One of America's toughest enemies in Africa is a national president big on juju black magic. Since the Kwame Nkrumah, Ghana's chief of state and the West African end of the Peking-Accra Axis, he mixes juju with pro-Communist action and diamonds and gold to whip up a mighty hate potion against the free world.

Victor Riesel

This is no Hollywood movie script. President Nkrumah is obsessed with juju. He wears anti-harm gri-gris (amulets or talismans) to ward off misfortune and sundry would-be assissins. He consults sorcerers. He believes in good luck days. Since his modernized witch doctors—juju cultists—who specialize in fetishes want no harm to come to themselves by advising him wrongly, they warn him constantly not to go out. So he rarely is seen these days.

Just how powerful a hold juju has on President Nkrumah was evident when he sacrificed his most exultant pleasure—the cheers of tens of thousands of Ghanaians.

ON JUNE 12 there were at least 100,000 people gathered in and around the sports stadium celebrating the 15th anniversary of the single ruling organization called the Convention People's party. Mr. Nkrumah is chairman of the central committee and thus absolute ruler of Ghana.

Usually such a vast celebration is unthinkable without the president of Ghana, who also is the party's general secretary. But, despite all the gri-gris around his neck for protection, Mr. Nkrumah decided not to go. Instead, he sent a long message to be read to the throng by N. A. Welbeck, the party's executive secretary.

President Nkrumah's advisers (actually sorcerers) persuaded him not to attend. So strongly does he believe in juju.

To rationalize this devotion to black magic, which is the West African counterpart of Caribbean voodooism, Mr. Nkrumah mixes it with politics. He believes it will protect him in his drives against the democratic nations on and off this continent. It has given him a man-of-destiny complex, much to the anger of democratic African heads of state.

NOT TOO LONG ago he was involved in an attempt to overthrow the free government of Nigeria. He supplied money and intrigue—and Nigeria would have been quite a prize, since it is the most heavily populated African state, with more than 40 million people. This nation, further east, also has just discovered a hundred-year supply of natural gas and apparently endless oil deposits. Nigeria also is in the midst of developing its coal and iron fields.

Mr. Nkrumah also builds Communist labor movements as far east at Kenya on the Indian Ocean all in collaboration with the Chinese Communists who are well aware of his fetishism and encourage it.

Peking operatives are fascinated by juju and gri-gris, which come in all shapes, colors and are hung anywhere on the body. Juju has been described as a strange mixture of primitive medicine, symbolism and brainwashing. It can be a powerful weapon. Many of the presidents of African nations ranging across the old French and British colonial states find it fierce to cope with.

IT REACHES from the bush, the savannahs and rain forests right into the big cities. Recently, for example, President Houphouet-Boigny, of the Ivory Coast Republic, decided the time had come to launch a counter-offensive against juju and the wearing of gri-gris as well as the Caribbean-cultist practices.

This African president called together his most important national legislators, top labor chiefs and even some church officials. He told them that he believed that the men in the room with him, who were attempting to build a modern nation, were hindered by their use of juju.

He said bluntly that virtually all of them wore gri-gris—some square, some round, some made of bits of material and, of all things, plastic. Sewn or baked into the gri-gris are the hopes of the wearers, sometimes written in longhand, sometimes actually on a typewriter.

PRESIDENT Houphouet-Boigny showed them a tiny casket and charged that it was part of the "death magic" which a political opponent was attempting to use against him. He did not mind being the object of this voodoo type curse, but he did mind modern leaders of a state active in world affairs failing to free themselves from fetishes.

Only the president can know what he really had in mind but it is certain that such men as he are disturbed by the reluctance of national leaders to begin a campaign to wipe juju out of the rural areas where most Africans live. National leaders on this continent know that the Chinese Reds are exploiting the black magic.

The Communists from Peking operate their witchcraft center from Bujumbura in the kingdom of Burundi over in Central Africa. The Chinese either buy male or female witch doctors or simply set them up in business.

THIS IS an old Soviet practice. The Russians, being more modern, automated their witchcraft. Transistors were put in bleached skulls in order to speak to peasants and workers in the hinterlands. The transistor was merely a receiver picking up special broadcasts.

Today the Chinese Communists are using juju across Africa—where it has different names—among rebellious tribesmen who are told that certain gri-gris or amulets or pills will protect them against bullets and later their reward will be "medicine" in the form of herbs and special powders which will materialize their wishes.

Those Chinese never miss a trick.

Guilt By Inference

Attack On Goldwater Questioned

Because of the multitude of distortions already emerging in the current presidential campaign, millions of Americans have been misled into thinking that Sen. Goldwater, if elected president, would start a nuclear war. Democratic leaders in Congress have begun to characterize the Republican presidential nominee as "trigger-happy," and various Democratic governors have used the same innuendo.

David Lawrence

Sooner or later truth catches up with fiction. The criticism of the statement made by Sen. Goldwater some time ago was that he was willing to let military commanders in the field exercise their own judgment as to when nuclear weapons would be used. Actually, the Arizona senator was discussing a specific military problem that might arise in Europe, and he was describing the importance of delegated authority.

He was not referring to the ordinary field commanders, but to the commander - in - chief of American forces who, in most instances, would be the supreme commander of all Allied forces, just as Gen. Eisenhower was in World War II and as Marshal Foch was in World War I.

Nobody who stops to think of the surprise attack that could come would wish to require a military commander to get on the telephone and try to find the president of the United States —while he may be traveling around the country — in order to get authority to retaliate as American troops were meanwhile being slaughtered every minute of the time.

THE ESSENCE of military procedure is that there must be delegated authority — a prescribed course of action that can be used instantly in an emergency. This is all that Sen. Goldwater had in mind, and he wanted such delegated authority given to the commander of the NATO forces, not to subordinate military commanders indiscriminately.

As a matter of fact, the United States government under the Johnson administration, and previously under the Kennedy administration, has been giving careful study to a plan known as the "multi-lateral force," which would use nuclear weapons from vantage points along the coast of a European country.

The plan calls for 25 surface ships, each equipped with eight Polaris missiles. Under current proposals, each country could exercise a veto but, if there were unanimous agreement among the senior officers on a ship, they could fire the missiles in an emergency.

Since there would be mixed crews, all the commanders of the participating nations would agree before pulling the trigger but plainly it would be the U.S. commander in the field who would be agreeing to the use of missiles in the event of attack.

THE DETAILS of these plans have not yet been completed, but in theory they are all based upon the concept of delegated authority.

The problem is growing more complex all the time, because there are signs that President de Gaulle of France wants Europe to go it alone. He evidently by now has some nuclear strength, though the exact amount has never been announced.

He thinks that Europe should act as an entity and that it should not depend upon the United States. This does not mean that he would not welcome the help and the nuclear power of America if France is attacked.

The United States, on the other hand, has been willing to cooperate with France and with other nations in order to get a clear understanding of just how nuclear weapons should be used, preferably through NATO.

Again and again in the past there have been discussions as to who should really pull the trigger, and there has been an impression that this has been left entirely to the president of the United States. But, more and more, the European military men, as well as high officials like President de Gaulle, have come to regard such a remote control as dangerous to their safety. Thus the discussion has turned to the delegation of authority in certain kinds of emergencies.

IT'S, THEREFORE, an illusion to imply that Sen. Goldwater has initiated the controversy or that anything he has said justifies the interpretation given to his speeches or comments in the past on the subject of delegated authority.

Sen. Goldwater, as a reserve officer in the Air Force, is well acquainted with military procedures, and would be the last man to advocate that any commander be given authority to pull the trigger and start a nuclear war.

The whole quibble about what Sen. Goldwater said or didn't say really is irrelevant. It's most unfortunate that so many people have come to believe that the Arizona senator has introduced something new into the situation or that he is "impulsive" or "imprudent," as his political enemies have tried to picture him.

The nuclear problem is a serious one and should never be allowed to become a football in party politics.

The Campaigners

By Douglas Kiker

Both are products of the American Southwest. Both are highly ambitious, highly skilled politicians. And both want the same job.

But there the comparison ends abruptly.

Lyndon Baines Johnson and Barry Morris Goldwater simply are two different breeds of men and the presidential campaigns they will conduct this fall inevitably will reflect this fact.

The senator will campaign as a Jeremiah, come to recite harshly the ills of the nation and call on it to mend its liberal ways.

The President will campaign as a kindly, capable uncle come to help the nation through trying days, to reassure it that all is really well and that things will be better from now on, not worse.

Lyndon Johnson lives and breathes politics, and the fact that people rush up to him to shake his hand, to wish him luck, fills him with great excitement and satisfaction. He will campaign in the streets of America this fall, as well as over television and radio, and before huge audiences.

Barry Goldwater, walking down a city street, smiling, waving at well-wishers, is an attractive sight. But he gets no thrill out of this sort of campaigning. He will have to do it, and often, before November rolls around. But it is not something he will enjoy. It is not that he doesn't like people; it's that he does not thrill to mass politics.

By every evidence, the senator is going to conduct a tough campaign against the President. He is going to be a man on the attack.

Mr. Johnson's strategy will be to ignore him, and by this pointed action try to suggest to the American people that, after all, he's too busy running the country to waste time listening to this nonsense.

The senator's campaign will be that of a man for the republic. The President will be a man for the people.

Sen. Goldwater is going to lecture. President Johnson is going to cajole.

The senator's candidacy is bound to be an enormously controversial one — so much so that perhaps the great debate the American people have been promised will be greatly obscured.

Under constant Republican attack, the President's campaign will consist of silence under pressure.

Will the senator move toward the political middle-ground as time goes on? No one who heard his acceptance speech at the Cow Palace can believe that it will.

Will the President, seemingly assured of liberal support, move to the middle to join him? He may feint to the right. But with the racial backlash vote a factor to worry about, he also knows that he must offer white big-city Democrats a powerful alternative to their possible prejudice. And so ultimaely, he will run for reelection in the classical way Democrats do, by going for the East, by going for the cities.

Irreconcilable Southerners pulled that trick for a century after the Civil War settled the rebellion of the Confederacy. They continued to agitate the issue of Negro rights after that had been settled by constitutional amendment.

They are still stalling off the U.S. Supreme Court's order on school desegregation.

They continue to talk about states' rights as if they were still threshing out the difference between a federation of sovereign states and a nation in the Constitutional Convention of 1789.

CIVIL RIGHTS is not an issue. The issue has been closed.

Why has not been settled is whether the nation has enough responsible leadership in public offices to guarantee conscientious enforcement of the laws now on the books.

The situation calls for a high order of discipline on the part of both whites and Negroes. They have not proved they are capable in all ways and in all places of orderly behavior.

It calls for an alert and sensitive public conscience that will cringe at a flout law attitude.

The Republic can be destroyed by irreconcilability in 1964 as surely as it almost was destroyed by irreconcilability years ago.

THE ONLY thing that can save it now is the thing that saved it then — the determination of masses of loyal Americans to keep their dream from being shattered by those who never shared it.

Civil rights is not an issue in the 1964 national campaign. Anyone who disregards the fact this issue has been closed by congressional action is doing a grave public disservice.

And anyone who tries to twist outbreaks of civil disorder into evidence that the civil rights issue is still debatable is making a cruel distortion of fact.

All that remains debatable is what needs to be done and what can be done — not the principle of civil rights.

A Lesson In Arithmetic

There is a lesson in arithmetic for all of us in the 1965 city budget, for which a public hearing was held today in Auditor Lawrence Zollinger's office.

The budget shows that $206,000 of the general fund's estimated $649,316 receipts next year will be derived from city income tax revenue.

The general fund is the branch that represents many of the essential operations of the municipality, notably the fire and police departments, all the offices at City Hall and many other services, such as street-lighting and school crossing guards.

If owners of real estate were asked to vote additional taxes to provide that $206,000, it would require an increase of more than five mills. One mill in the city tax duplicate brings in about $40,000. It's a matter of simple arithmetic that over five mills would be required to produce the $206,000. The boost in the tax rate would amount to $4 on each $1,000 of valuation.

The latest report issued by State Auditor Roger W. Tracy shows 83 Ohio cities and villages now help finance their operations with an income tax. The source produced more than $86 million in 1963.

While on the subject of tax, most residents must be applauding the action of the city income tax department in taking court action against a comparative few who have avoided compliance with the law through failure to file returns. A consistent campaign is continuing to hale into Municipal Court those who failed to file final returns on 1963 earnings and estimates on 1964 income.

Payment of taxes is one of the duties imposed upon us as Americans in return for the privileges we enjoy under our form of government. One of the basic principles of our system is "equal justice under the law." Those same laws contemplate that no citizen shall enjoy the privileges of the system without sharing in the attendant responsibilities.

Consistent taxpayers must have a better attitude toward the tax since they know no one is being permitted to ignore the law.

More Figures For Planners

Planning groups working on behalf of the city of East Liverpool and Columbiana County as a whole have received another warning note on the monumental job they are facing.

It comes from the Ohio Department of Highway Safety, which advises: Get ready to accommodate in the neighborhood of six million motor vehicles on our streets and highways by 1971 and no later than 1972.

Director Warren C. Nelson says that "Ohio's motor vehicle registration will go over the five million total in 1964 (registration year ending March 31, 1965) and our figures show that we have a constant growth rate of approximately 142,000 vehicles annually."

"This means," he continued, "about a million more cars must be provided with driving and parking spaces over the state. I think the planners will agree with me—they face quite a problem."

Mr. Nelson will get no argument from our planners. All they can do is keep in mind what his figures mean to the city and county as they go about their tasks.

He Shouldn't Say It!

Americans aren't supposed to admit that some of what Prasident De Gaulle says when he gives his French views on the world might be true, least of all what he says about the United States.

How could anyone in American take the man seriously when he says this country has an aversion for all colonialism that is not its own? He must be blinded by his own narrow nationalism not to see the difference between French colonialism in what used to be French Indo-China and American resistance to Communist takeover of that segment of Indo-China now called South Viet Nam.

Certainly he can see the difference between the United States maintaining a garrison state in South Korea and the kind of garrison states France, Britain, Germany, Italy and the Netherlands used to operate in the era of colonialism.

How could he be so blind as not to see the difference between the United States following a giveaway policy that looks like altruism to its taxpayers and the policies of other world powers that lost so much money protecting their tottering colonial empires against Communists and nationalists that they finally wriggled off the hook to avoid bankruptcy?

Only a Charles de Gaulle, with his deep-seated capacity for hurting feelings, could be so blind as not to see that colonialism was the bad thing other nations did, not the good thing the United States is doing.

I am more concerned at the moment about the war in Harlem than about the war in South Viet Nam. The latter can be won whenever we want to risk all-out war in Southeast Asia. But who wants to risk all-out war in Harlem?

There are going to be strange twists to the 1964 campaign, but none stranger than a radio ham, with all the camaraderie that goes with hamming, running for the top office. Will other hams be at ease if they tune into the Arizona senator's wave length?

Until Harlem Negroes feel better about white policemen I'd use nothing there but Negro policemen — not as a concession inimical to long-range police policy but as a concession to the security of white policemen.

Advantage Of A Good Springboard

Ghana's Chief Uses Old Black Magic

By Victor Riesel

ACCRA, Ghana:

One of America's toughest enemies in Africa is a national president big on juju black magic. Since the Kwame Nkrumah, Ghana's chief of state and the West African end of the Peking-Accra Axis, he mixes juju with pro-Communist action and diamonds and gold to whip up a mighty hate potion against the free world.

Victor Riesel

This is no Hollywood movie script. President Nkrumah is obsessed with juju. He wears anti-harm gri-gris (amulets or talismans) to ward off misfortune and sundry would-be assissins. He consults sorcerers. He believes in good luck days. Since his modernized witch doctors—juju cultists—who specialize in fetishes want no harm to come to themselves by advising him wrongly, they warn him constantly not to go out. So he rarely is seen these days.

Just how powerful a hold juju has on President Nkrumah was evident when he sacrificed his most exultant pleasure—the cheers of tens of thousands of Ghanaians.

ON JUNE 12 there were at least 100,000 people gathered in and around the sports stadium celebrating the 15th anniversary of the single ruling organization called the Convention People's party. Mr. Nkrumah is chairman of the central committee and thus absolute ruler of Ghana.

Usually such a vast celebration is unthinkable without the president of Ghana, who also is the party's general secretary. But, despite all the gri-gris around his neck for protection, Mr. Nkrumah decided not to go. Instead, he sent a long message to be read to the throng by N. A. Welbeck, the party's executive secretary.

President Nkrumah's advisers (actually sorcerers) persuaded him not to attend. So strongly does he believe in juju.

To rationalize this devotion to black magic, which is the West African counterpart of Caribbean voodooism, Mr. Nkrumah mixes it with politics. He believes it will protect him in his drives against the democratic nations on and off this continent. It has given him a man-of-destiny complex, much to the anger of democratic African heads of state.

NOT TOO LONG ago he was involved in an attempt to overthrow the free government of Nigeria. He supplied money and intrigue—and Nigeria would have been quite a prize, since it is the most heavily populated African state, with more than 40 million people. This nation, further east, also has just discovered a hundred-year supply of natural gas and apparently endless oil deposits. Nigeria also is in the midst of developing its coal and iron fields.

Mr. Nkrumah also builds Communist labor movements as far east at Kenya on the Indian Ocean all in collaboration with the Chinese Communists who are well aware of his fetishism and encourage it.

Peking operatives are fascinated by juju and gri-gris, which come in all shapes, colors and are hung anywhere on the body. Juju has been described as a strange mixture of primitive medicine, symbolism and brainwashing. It can be a powerful weapon. Many of the presidents of African nations ranging across the old French and British colonial states find it fierce to cope with.

IT REACHES from the bush, the savannahs and rain forests right into the big cities. Recently, for example, President Houphouet-Boigny, of the Ivory Coast Republic, decided the time had come to launch a counter-offensive against juju and the wearing of gri-gris as well as the Caribbean-cultist practices.

This African president called together his most important national legislators, top labor chiefs and even some church officials. He told them that he believed that the men in the room with him, who were attempting to build a modern nation, were hindered by their use of juju.

He said bluntly that virtually all of them wore gri-gris—some square, some round, some made of bits of material and, of all things, plastic. Sewn or baked into the gri-gris are the hopes of the wearers, sometimes written in longhand, sometimes actually on a typewriter.

PRESIDENT Houphouet-Boigny showed them a tiny casket and charged that it was part of the "death magic" which a political opponent was attempting to use against him. He did not mind being the object of this voodoo type curse, but he did mind modern leaders of a state active in world affairs failing to free themselves from fetishes.

Only the president can know what he really had in mind but it is certain that such men as he are disturbed by the reluctance of national leaders to begin a campaign to wipe juju out of the rural areas where most Africans live. National leaders on this continent know that the Chinese Reds are exploiting the black magic.

The Communists from Peking operate their witchcraft center from Bujumbura in the kingdom of Burundi over in Central Africa. The Chinese either buy male or female witch doctors or simply set them up in business.

THIS IS an old Soviet practice. The Russians, being more modern, automated their witchcraft. Transistors were put in bleached skulls in order to speak to peasants and workers in the hinterlands. The transistor was merely a receiver picking up special broadcasts.

Today the Chinese Communists are using juju across Africa—where it has different names—among rebellious tribesmen who are told that certain gri-gris or amulets or pills will protect them against bullets and later their reward will be "medicine" in the form of herbs and special powders which will materialize their wishes.

Those Chinese never miss a trick.

Guilt By Inference

By David Lawrence

Attack On Goldwater Questioned

Because of the multitude of distortions already emerging in the current presidential campaign, millions of Americans have been misled into thinking that Sen. Goldwater, if elected president, would start a nuclear war. Democratic leaders in Congress have begun to characterize the Republican presidential nominee as "trigger-happy," and various Democratic governors have used the same innuendo.

David Lawrence

Sooner or later truth catches up with fiction. The criticism of the statement made by Sen. Goldwater some time ago was that he was willing to let military commanders in the field exercise their own judgment as to when nuclear weapons would be used. Actually, the Arizona senator was discussing a specific military problem that might arise in Europe, and he was describing the importance of delegated authority.

He was not referring to the ordinary field commanders, but to the commander - in - chief of American forces who, in most instances, would be the supreme commander of all Allied forces, just as Gen. Eisenhower was in World War II and as Marshal Foch was in World War I.

Nobody who stops to think of the surprise attack that could come would wish to require a military commander to get on the telephone and try to find the president of the United States —while he may be traveling around the country — in order to get authority to retaliate as American troops were meanwhile being slaughtered every minute of the time.

THE ESSENCE of military procedure is that there must be delegated authority — a prescribed course of action that can be used instantly in an emergency. This is all that Sen. Goldwater had in mind, and he wanted such delegated authority given to the commander of the NATO forces, not to subordinate military commanders indiscriminately.

As a matter of fact, the United States government under the Johnson administration, and previously under the Kennedy administration, has been giving careful study to a plan known as the "multi-lateral force," which would use nuclear weapons from vantage points along the coast of a European country.

The plan calls for 25 surface ships, each equipped with eight Polaris missiles. Under current proposals, each country could exercise a veto but, if there were unanimous agreement among the senior officers on a ship, they could fire the missiles in an emergency.

Since there would be mixed crews, all the commanders of the participating nations would agree before pulling the trigger but plainly it would be the U.S. commander in the field who would be agreeing to the use of missiles in the event of attack.

THE DETAILS of these plans have not yet been completed, but in theory they are all based upon the concept of delegated authority.

The problem is growing more complex all the time, because there are signs that President de Gaulle of France wants Europe to go it alone. He evidently now has some nuclear strength, though the exact amount has never been announced.

He thinks that Europe should act as an entity and that it should not depend upon the United States. This does not mean that he would not welcome the help and the nuclear power of America if France is attacked.

The United States, on the other hand, has been willing to cooperate with France and with other nations in order to get a clear understanding of just how nuclear weapons should be used, preferably through NATO.

Again and again in the past there have been discussions as to who should really pull the trigger, and there has been an impression that this has been left entirely to the president of the United States. But, more and more, the European military men, as well as high officials like President de Gaulle, have come to regard such a remote control as dangerous to their safety. Thus the discussion has turned to the delegation of authority in certain kinds of emergencies.

IT'S, THEREFORE, an illusion to imply that Sen. Goldwater has initiated the controversy or that anything he has said justifies the interpretation given to his speeches or comments in the past on the subject of delegated authority.

Sen. Goldwater, as a reserve officer in the Air Force, is well acquainted with military procedures, and would be the last man to advocate that any commander be given authority to pull the trigger and start a nuclear war.

The whole quibble about what Sen. Goldwater said or didn't say really is irrelevant. It's most unfortunate that so many people have come to believe that the Arizona senator has introduced something new into the situation or that he is "impulsive" or "imprudent," as his political enemies have tried to picture him.

The nuclear problem is a serious one and should never be allowed to become a football in party politics.

The Campaigners

By Douglas Kiker

Both are products of the American Southwest. Both are highly ambitious, highly skilled politicians. And both want the same job.

But there the comparison ends abruptly.

Lyndon Baines Johnson and Barry Morris Goldwater simply are two different breeds of men and the presidential campaigns they will conduct this fall inevitably will reflect this fact.

The senator will campaign as a Jeremiah, come to recite harshly the ills of the nation and call on it to mend its liberal ways.

The President will campaign as a kindly, capable uncle come to help the nation through trying days, to reassure it that all is really well and that things will be better from now on, not worse.

Lyndon Johnson lives and breathes politics, and the fact that people rush up to him to shake his hand, to wish him luck, fills him with great excitement and satisfaction. He will campaign in the streets of America this fall, as well as over television and radio, and before huge audiences.

Barry Goldwater, walking down a city street, smiling, waving at well-wishers, is an attractive sight. But he gets no thrill out of this sort of campaigning. He will have to do it, and often, before November rolls around. But it is not something he will enjoy. It is not that he doesn't like people; it's that he does not thrill to mass politics.

By every evidence, the senator is going to conduct a tough campaign against the President. He is going to be a man on the attack.

Mr. Johnson's strategy will be to ignore him, and by this pointed action try to suggest to the American people that, after all, he's too busy running the country to waste time listening to this nonsense.

The senator's campaign will be that of a man for the republic. The President will be a man for the people.

Sen. Goldwater is going to lecture. President Johnson is going to cajole.

The senator's candidacy is bound to be an enormously controversial one — so much so that perhaps the great debate the American people have been promised will be greatly obscured.

Under constant Republican attack, the President's campaign will consist of silence under pressure.

Will the senator move toward the political middle-ground as time goes on? No one who heard his acceptance speech at the Cow Palace can believe that it will.

Will the President, seemingly assured of liberal support, move to the middle to join him? He may feint to the right. But with the racial backlash vote a factor to worry about, he also knows that he must offer white big-city Democrats a powerful alternative to their possible prejudice. And so ultimaely, he will run for reelection in the classical way Democrats do, by going for the East, by going for the cities.

Deaths and Funerals

Death Claims Widow At 46

Mrs. Hester Springer, 1621 Holliday St., widow of Charles L. Springer, died Friday at 5 p. m. at City Hospital, after a year's illness. She was 46.

Mrs. Springer was born in Doddridge County, W. Va., to the late James Hammon and Emma Johnston Hammon, and resided in the vicinity for 24 years. She was a member of the Oakland Free Methodist Church.

She is survived by a son, Arnold C. Springer at home; three brothers, Sherman Hammon of Clarksville, Pa., Hursel Hammon of Shinnston, W. Va., and Wilbur Hammon of East Liverpool, and three sisters, Mrs. Orpha Hoover and Mrs. Ota Yerkey, both of Youngstown, and Mrs. Arlie Sprout of Phoenix.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by the Rev. S. H. Estel. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight and Sunday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Grace Couch

Mrs. Grace Couch of Lorain, former resident of East Liverpool and widow of Ralph T. Couch, died Friday at 2 p. m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alan Parsons, with whom she resided.

Her husband was a former superintendent of the Ohio Power Co. in East Liverpool.

Service will be held Monday at 1 p. m. at a funeral home in Lorain.

City Man Named Administrator Of Nursing Home

The appointment of Richard D. Darrah of Park Blvd. as the administrator of Wightman Manor, the newly-constructed nursing and convalescent home in Squirrel Hill, Pittsburgh, was announced by the board of directors.

Darrah is a graduate of the Carnegie Tech School of Architecture and has done post-graduate work at the University of Pittsburgh.

Recently, he was vice president of the Patterson Foundry & Machine Co. of East End and also has been vice president of the Windsor Corp. and assistant to the president of Wilson Brothers, holding companies. He is president of Oakmont Residence, Inc., a Pittsburgh suburban nursing home facility.

During the past two years, Darrah has been active in nursing home studies and seminars covering many phases of nursing home administration.

Crucible Blood Donor Group Gives 48 Pints

Members of the Employes' Blood Credit Program at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. donated 48 pints of blood during a field visit of the Regional Blood Center of the Beaver County Red Cross Chapter of New Brighton.

Under this program, employes and their eligible dependents may receive blood free, when necessary, regardless of the number of pints needed. The Red Cross assists the company with the program.

The program's blood reserve as of the end of June totaled 134 pints, compared to a reserve of 276 pints last August. Applications for employes interested in joining the program are available at the plant Medical Department at all times.

Since it began in September 1957, some 2,427 pints have been donated by employes. There are between 1,500 and 2,000 employes in the program.

Beaver Local Band's Meeting Set Tuesday

The Beaver Local High School Band will hold a special meeting Tuesday at 5 p. m. at the high school, and students in Grades 9-12, who are planning to play in the concert or marching band for the 1964-65 term, are required to register then.

A representative of a uniform company will measure students for their new uniforms. Any student unable to attend is to call FU. 5-4431, or a Canfield phone number, LE. 3-3887, to make arrangements to be measured.

Music for the season will be distributed and a rehearsal will follow. Captains of the birthday calendar project are to report at the school at 4 p.m. The group includes Andrew Mellon, Cindy Cairns, Joan Benner, Marsha Hawkins and Don Stohl.

Stanton Meeting Set

HAMMONDSVILLE — The Stanton Local Band Boosters will meet Monday night at 8 at the high school. Mrs. William Banfield is president.

For Pittsburgh Conference

Free Methodist Meeting Waited

Five guest speakers are scheduled for the 82nd annual meeting of the Pittsburgh Conference of the Free Methodist Church, which opens Tuesday morning at the campgrounds on Anderson Blvd. and will continue through Friday night.

Speakers include Dr. L. H. Knox of Winona Lake, Ind., a denominational publisher, who also will be the presiding officer; the Rev. Victor Macy, a missionary from Africa; the Rev. Ernest Keasling, a representative from Roberts Wesleyan College of North Chili, N.Y.

The Rev. L. E. Seeley, a representative of the Gerry (N.Y.) Homes, and the Rev. H. L. Jones of the Ohio Conference.

Dr. Knox will open the session at 10 a.m. and give the main address, followed with the election of three superintendents in the afternoon. Following another sermon by Dr. Knox Tuesday evening, Rev. Macy will speak.

Highlights of Wednesday's session will be a report on Roberts Wesleyan College by Dr. Keasling and the first business session of the WMS at 1:30 p. m., with Mrs. Dorothy Page of Apollo, a former resident of East Liverpool, president, in charge.

A MISSIONARY rally will get under way at 7:30 p.m. with Rev. Macy in charge. He will also introduce a native from his field, Stephen Rutuna. Slides will also be screened by Rev. Macy.

Rev. Seeley will give a talk to promote the interest of the Gerry Homes Thursday morning. Rev. Jones will be the speaker at 7:30 p.m.

Following the address to the ministers by Dr. Knox Friday morning, the WMS will conclude its meetings in the afternoon with election of officers.

ORDINATION OF elders will open the 7 p.m. meeting, followed with the reading of the appointments of ministers by Dr. Knox.

The conference will close Friday night.

Ministers and laymen are expected to arrive at the campgrounds Monday. About 200 are scheduled to attend the four-day session. The Rev. J. S. Mitchell of Wellsburg, Rochester - Huntington District superintendent, will be the host superintendent.

Father To Preach

City Pastor's Son Waits Installation In Own Pulpit

The Rev. Michael R. Miller, son of the Rev. and Mrs. M. Rudolph Miller, will be installed Sunday night as pastor of the Lakeside United Presbyterian Church of Rochester, N. Y., by the Presbytery of Genesee Valley. His father will preach at the service.

Rev. Miller served the last four years as assistant minister of the Brown Memorial United Presbyterian Church of Baltimore after his ordination by the Steubenville Presbytery in the Trinity church, of which he was a member until that time.

He is a 1952 graduate of East Liverpool High School and was graduated from Yale University in 1956. He received his bachelor of divinity degree cum laude from Union Theological Seminary in New York City in 1960. During his seminary career he served as student intern in the Community Church of Fair Lawn, N. J.

He is married to the former Miss Deborah Brewster, whose father is presently serving as minister of evangelism in the First Congregational Church in Honolulu. They have two children, Martha and Andrew, and are now residing in Rochester.

Anne, Queen Elizabeth's 13-year-old daughter, wore make-up and an Elizabethan costume for her part in Benenden School's Speech Day Friday. She was one of five students who rode ponies in the pageant and was the only one allowed to gallop.

Queen Elizabeth; her cousin, Princess Alexandra, and Ogilvy, Alexandra's husband, drove to Benenden from London to be with Anne for her first Speech Day, just as did relatives and friends of the other 300 students at the school.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Walter Brennan celebrated his 70th birthday Friday with he and his wife of 46 years, Ruth, cutting a cake in a party at the Desilu-Culver television studios. Also present was the couple's son, Andrew.

Farmer Locates Coal Mine—The Hard Way!

He was plowing when he and his tractor dropped 10 feet into an abandoned mine tunnel. Inglehart escaped injury but had quite a time extracting his tractor.

Pool Victim Dies

COSHOCTON, Ohio (AP) — The 41-year-old municipal swimming pool claimed its first victim Friday, Cynthia Long, 13, of Coshocton. The girl was still alive when taken from the pool at Coshocton Lake Park. She died a few hours later in the hospital.

County Pays $50 Memorial Costs

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Thursday authorized payment of Memorial Day expenses of $50 for the following veterans' organizations: Wilford Clunk VFW Post 4111 at Lisbon, John J. Welsh American Legion Post 275 of Lisbon and George F. McBane American Legion Post 31 of East Palestine.

Commissioners also authorized payment of $200 to the Columbiana War Memorial Committee, with payments to be made to veterans' organization that participated.

The City of East Liverpool was paid $41 for 82 dogs destroyed in June. Knox Township trustees were given a $300 slag grant. James Miller, juvenile officer, was authorized a travel allowance to take a juvenile to Columbus Monday and return another youth to Lisbon.

The commissioners next meeting will be Monday from 10 a. m. to 4 p.m.

Race Terror Feared In South Africa Blast

The blast in an area reserved for whites exploded at the peak traffic hour Friday, injuring 22 persons, 10 of them seriously.

Report Backs Newer Social Security Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to increase Social Security benefits and raise the tax used to support them would improve the long range financial status of the program, the House Ways and Means Committee reports.

The legislation, which comes up for House consideration Wednesday, would provide an across - the - board increase in benefits of 5 per cent, liberalize eligibility provisions for 600,000 elderly persons and continue child's survivors benefits to age 22, instead of cutting them off at 18.

It would also let widows start receiving benefits at age 60 instead of 62, and extend coverage to self-employed physicians and interns.

The bill also provides a rate increase which would up the Social Security tax from the present 3 5-8 per cent each on employers and employes to 3.8 per cent on Jan. 1 with peak of 4.8 per cent after Jan. 1, 1971. The amount of earnings subject to the tax would be raised from $4,800 to $5,400.

"The net effect of the bill is to improve the actuarial soundness of the program," the committee said.

As of May 31, the two Social Security trust funds had assets of more than $22 billion. During May, 19.4 million persons received payments totaling $1.2 billion.

Though receipts to each fund were less than expenditures from each during the year ended June 30, 1963, it was estimated that by June 30, 1968 the old age trust fund would increase to $25.2 billion and the disability trust fund would decease to $1.2 billion, indicating the need for the reallocation proposed in the bill.

The committee said that, under its bill, it was estimated that after 1965 and for the next 20 years income for the old age fund would exceed disbursements and with the aid of interest the balance would exceed $120 billion by the end of this century.

Fair Contest Set For Needlework

Columbiana County knitters and crocheters have been invited to enter their needlework for judging in the County Agricultural Society Fair Aug. 25-30 at Lisbon.

Contestants must win a first prize at Lisbon to be eligible for the national judging in New York late in 1964. The contest, sponsored jointly by the National Hand Knitting Yarn Association and the American Wool Council, is open to all non-professional needleworkers and will offer a grand national prize of $1,000.

Further information on the contest is available from Mrs. Velma Cope, 376 E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, fair secretary.

St. Ann Cub Scouts Taken On Farm Tour

Members of Den 2 of Cub Scout Pack 60, sponsored by St. Ann's Cathalic Church, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Turk at their farm on the Fredericktown Rd. Wednesday afternoon.

The boys toured the farm and Turk accompanied the scouts through the barn. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maola, in charge of this week's den outing, and Turk served lunch.

Mrs. Donald Ramsey assisted with the transportation. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bell will be in charge of the next den meeting and the date will be announced.

2 Wellsville Troops To Attend Scout Camp

Sixty-five Boy Scouts from three troops, including two of Wellsville, will attend the sixth week of camping at Camp Twin Spruce at Leesville Lake, according to Bennett Taylor, Columbiana County council executive.

Attending next week will be: Troop 6 — Salem St. Paul's Catholic Church; Troop 19 —Wellsville First Mehodist Church, and Troop 20 — Wellsville Covenant United Presbyterian Church.

Elderly Woman Keeps 'Small Change' Handy

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —Police found an elderly woman wandering the streets Friday and took her to a hospital.

"Do you have more than $5 in your possession?" the admitting clerk asked. "If so, we'll have to put it in the hospital safe."

"Yes, a little," the woman replied.

OUR NEW LAND

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Forty-three acres! How long we labored, hoping someday to add it to our modest farm.

Sort of like that moment a few years ago when Peg and I became members of the congregation. Before that the church had been simply a familiar scene along the border of our lives. Suddenly it became our church.

And there was that deep sense of partnership with God . . . full of promise . . . frought with challenge.

There is such an abundant harvest of blessing and happiness to be reaped in life . . . if a man yearns for the best, and claims it for his own, and is ready to put his hand to the plow.

Report Backs Newer Social Security Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to increase Social Security benefits and raise the tax used to support them would improve the long range financial status of the program, the House Ways and Means Committee reports.

The legislation, which comes up for House consideration Wednesday, would provide an across - the - board increase in benefits of 5 per cent, liberalize eligibility provisions for 600,000 elderly persons and continue child's survivors benefits to age 22, instead of cutting them off at 18.

It would also let widows start receiving benefits at age 60 instead of 62, and extend coverage to self-employed physicians and interns.

The bill also provides a rate increase which would up the Social Security tax from the present 3 5-8 per cent each on employers and employes to 3.8 per cent on Jan. 1 with peak of 4.8 per cent after Jan. 1, 1971. The amount of earnings subject to the tax would be raised from $4,800 to $5,400.

"The net effect of the bill is to improve the actuarial soundness of the program," the committee said.

As of May 31, the two Social Security trust funds had assets of more than $22 billion. During May, 19.4 million persons received payments totaling $1.2 billion.

Though receipts to each fund were less than expenditures from each during the year ended June 30, 1963, it was estimated that by June 30, 1968 the old age trust fund would increase to $25.2 billion and the disability trust fund would decease to $1.2 billion, indicating the need for the reallocation proposed in the bill.

The committee said that, under its bill, it was estimated that after 1965 and for the next 20 years income for the old age fund would exceed disbursements and with the aid of interest the balance would exceed $120 billion by the end of this century.

Fair Contest Set For Needlework

Columbiana County knitters and crocheters have been invited to enter their needlework for judging in the County Agricultural Society Fair Aug. 25-30 at Lisbon.

Contestants must win a first prize at Lisbon to be eligible for the national judging in New York late in 1964. The contest, sponsored jointly by the National Hand Knitting Yarn Association and the American Wool Council, is open to all non-professional needleworkers and will offer a grand national prize of $1,000.

Further information on the contest is available from Mrs. Velma Cope, 376 E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, fair secretary.

St. Ann Cub Scouts Taken On Farm Tour

Members of Den 2 of Cub Scout Pack 60, sponsored by St. Ann's Cathalic Church, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Turk at their farm on the Fredericktown Rd. Wednesday afternoon.

The boys toured the farm and Turk accompanied the scouts through the barn. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maola, in charge of this week's den outing, and Turk served lunch.

Mrs. Donald Ramsey assisted with the transportation. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bell will be in charge of the next den meeting and the date will be announced.

2 Wellsville Troops To Attend Scout Camp

Sixty-five Boy Scouts from three troops, including two of Wellsville, will attend the sixth week of camping at Camp Twin Spruce at Leesville Lake, according to Bennett Taylor, Columbiana County council executive.

Attending next week will be: Troop 6 — Salem St. Paul's Catholic Church; Troop 19 —Wellsville First Mehodist Church, and Troop 20 — Wellsville Covenant United Presbyterian Church.

Elderly Woman Keeps 'Small Change' Handy

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —Police found an elderly woman wandering the streets Friday and took her to a hospital.

"Do you have more than $5 in your possession?" the admitting clerk asked. "If so, we'll have to put it in the hospital safe."

"Yes, a little," the woman replied.

OUR NEW LAND

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Forty-three acres! How long we labored, hoping someday to add it to our modest farm.

Sort of like that moment a few years ago when Peg and I became members of the congregation. Before that the church had been simply a familiar scene along the border of our lives. Suddenly it became our church.

And there was that deep sense of partnership with God . . . full of promise . . . frought with challenge.

There is such an abundant harvest of blessing and happiness to be reaped in life . . . if a man yearns for the best, and claims it for his own, and is ready to put his hand to the plow.

Bouquet's March

By GLENN H. WAIGHT

The skull of a slain child, jammed onto a stick in the opening of the thick forest between the Beaver River and Beaver Creek, symbolized for the marching men of Col. Henry Bouquet all the cruel suffering the Indian and white man had inflicted upon each other.

This winding column of 1,500 British regulars and Pennsylvania and Virginia militia was cutting its way cross country into the heart of the Ohio lands of the red man, led by a cool Swiss professional soldier, determined to seek out the Indian leaders and force a frontier peace from them.

Sunday the 200th anniversary of Bouquet's expedition into Ohio, which included three camps in the area of present Columbiana County, will be observed at Lisbon by costumed "Indian" and "Colonial" units in a mock battle.

The "Indians," led by Harry Cline of Wellsville, were to move into Lisbon today from the southwest, and the "Colonials" were due from another direction. Both will camp tonight at the Fairgrounds where the battle will be staged tomorrow at 8.

THERE WAS no actual fighting in the original expedition, however. It was a massive show of power which ended a violent outbreak of Indian assaults in the Ohio and Pennsylvania districts of 1763-64 and strengthened the American control of the Ohio and Northwest.

Indian tribes were not a party to the French and British peace treaty of 1763, and the red men were not pleased at the prospect of surrendering their lands to the British. They preferred the French who had been traders and their friends for over 100 years.

Pontiac, a chief of the Ottawas, formed a plan to unite the Indian forces and destroy the British fortresses and traders along the frontier.

However, the Indians suffered a heavy defeat at Bushy Run east of Ft. Pitt at the hands of forces under Bouquet in August 1763, and the warriors retreated north of the Ohio River, deserting their villages and hunting areas in western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio.

But Gen. Thomas Gage, resolved to bring the Indians to submission, ordered two expeditions against them — one under Col. John Bradstreet to strike along Lake Erie to Detroit, the other under Col. Bouquet to push into the very homeland of the tribes of the Delaware, Shawnee and Mingo.

BOUQUET, BORN in Switzerland, served in the Dutch and Sardinian armies and joined the British Army as a lieutenant colonel. He arrived at Philadelphia in 1756 and helped to recruit among the Germans there.

In 1758 he was promoted to Colonel under Gen. John Forbes, and was second in command when Forbe's troops ousted the French from Ft. Pitt. His foreign birth prevented him from becoming commander upon Forbes' death.

However, in 1762 he was commissioned by brevet by the British and naturalized by Maryland and Pennsylvania.

Preparations for the march out of Ft. Pitt were delayed by a number of delays—militia were always slow to organize and a number of the Pennsylvanians simply quit at Carlisle and went home.

Indians also tried to delay Bouquet by false peace stratagems, but by Oct. 3, the long train of troops, pack horses and livestock moved from the forks of the Ohio toward the west.

Down the river they went past Logtown, the former French and British trading post — near present Ambridge —crossing the Beaver River on Oct. 6 and pushing away from the Ohio into the wilderness.

The following day they met one of a number of people captured by Delawares at Ft. Bedford a week before who had escaped, and learned the Indians had spotted the army and were following in concealment.

THEY THEN came upon the skull of the child on the stick by two springs, and shortly afterward found the tracks of 15 warriors.

On they went, pressing to the west, knowing their huge caravan, now revealed to the Indians, would greatly awe the enemy and possibly bring a permanent peace and return of white captives.

The marchers followed no track, cutting right into the unmapped forests, and had no set limit to their journey other than to demonstrate the power of the British force and its ability to enforce order and peace.

The long line was preceded by three scouting parties, one on center and two on the flanks, followed by the Virginia militia.

Ax companies, guarded by light infantry, cut down brush and trees on two parallel paths each side of the main route—for the troops, cattle and horses.

Then came the 1st Highlanders, the Pennsylvania militia, and the officers and pack horses, followed by the cattle and sheep, bleating and lowing, the light horse units and the rear guard—an unwieldy but impressive entourage.

ON OR ABOUT Oct. 8—the dates are confused — the forced camped near Pancake's near the State Line area, according to the most recent historical study. It has also been thought for many years the camp was near Negley at the foot of a knoll, but this may have become confused with a Civil War encampment area and was given the "Camp Bouquet" name.

It is believed Bouquet required over 50 acres of land to accommodate his large force with their beeves and sheep needed for food, and the Negley site is thought to be too small.

Indications are that the expedition followed high ground as much as possible for defensive purposes.

The State Line camp was the first of three of Bouquet's in Columbiana County. The night before he had stopped near Blackhawk in Beaver County.

The force moved on across the county, camping near West Point and the following night at Gavers.

ON THEY pressed — over the lands and across streams, while the Indian leaders became more fearful of the inroads of this powerful army.

Finally, the chiefs sent a delegation to Bouquet, seeking an agreement and were told that a peace might be forged if all the white captives in the hands of the tribes were released to the army.

By Oct. 25, 1764, he was within a mile of the mouth of the Muskingum, and here he ordered a halt, building redoubts, storehouses and a strongly fortified encampment. This large semi-permanent community in the center of the Indian nations was looked upon by the red men as grave threat to their sovereignty and hunting lands.

The chiefs, anxious to rid the frontier of this concentration of whites, pressed endeavors to collect all the prisoners and return them to Bouquet. They met with the Colonel, blamed the burnings and killings upon the young braves whom they said they could not control, and asked for peace. They were told to bring all the prisoners and an agreement could be reached.

FINALLY, THE Indians turned over to the Army a total of 206 men, women and children who had been captured in forays against the white. There was a scene of wild joy as parents and children, wives and husbands were reunited — and cries of grief and horror as others learned the awful fate of loved ones.

Col. Bouquet ordered the Indian leaders to make an official peace with William Johnson, the King's Indian Agent, and set peace terms which included the return of 100 prisoners still held by the tribes.

On Nov. 18 the large force of Troops and the freed prisoners broke camp to return to Ft. Pitt.

The expedition lost only one man — killed by the lurking warriors when he ranged too far from the marchers.

The expedition had not only regained many white prisoners but the respect of the red men for the power of the British on the frontier, and earned a new era of peace in Pennsylvania and Ohio lands.

Col. Bouquet was given a public thanks by King George, and appointed commander of the Southern District with headquarters at Pensacola, Florida.

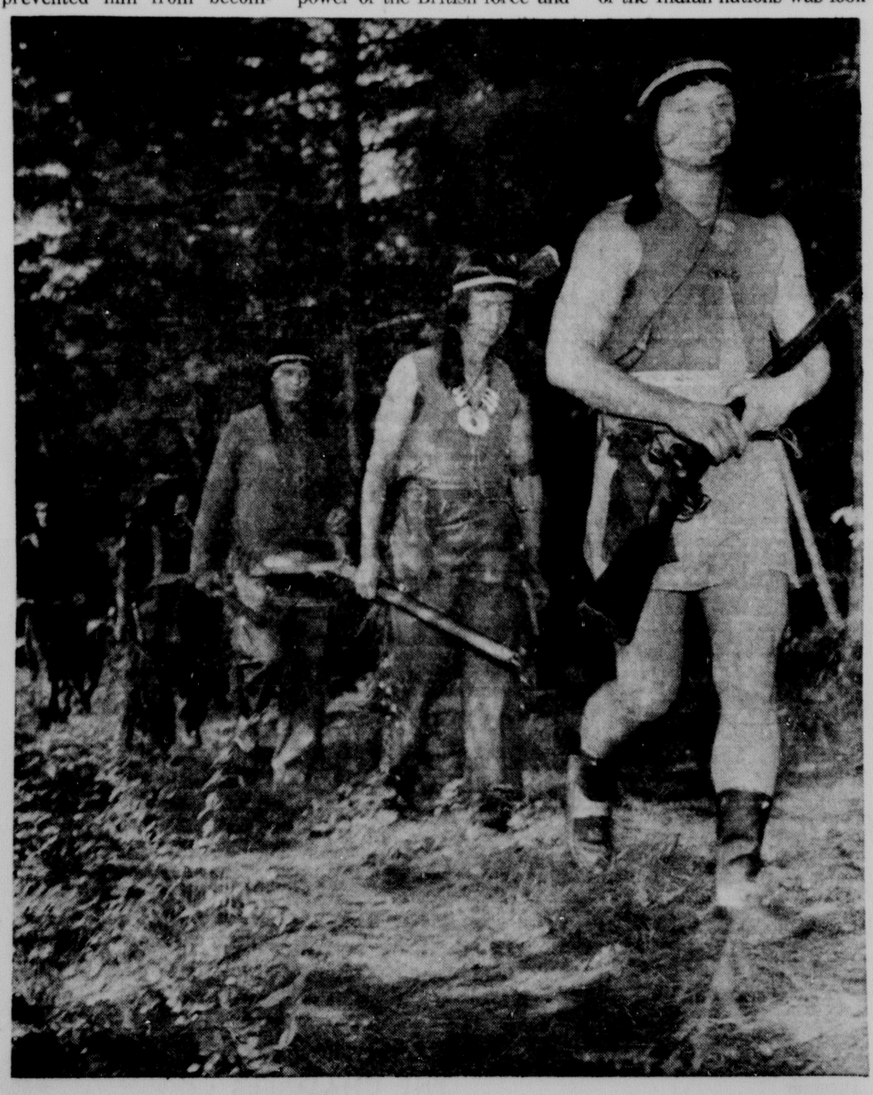

There he died in 1765, one of the noted frontier figures of American history who this weekend is again honored for his part of paving the way for development of this area and the land to the Pacific.

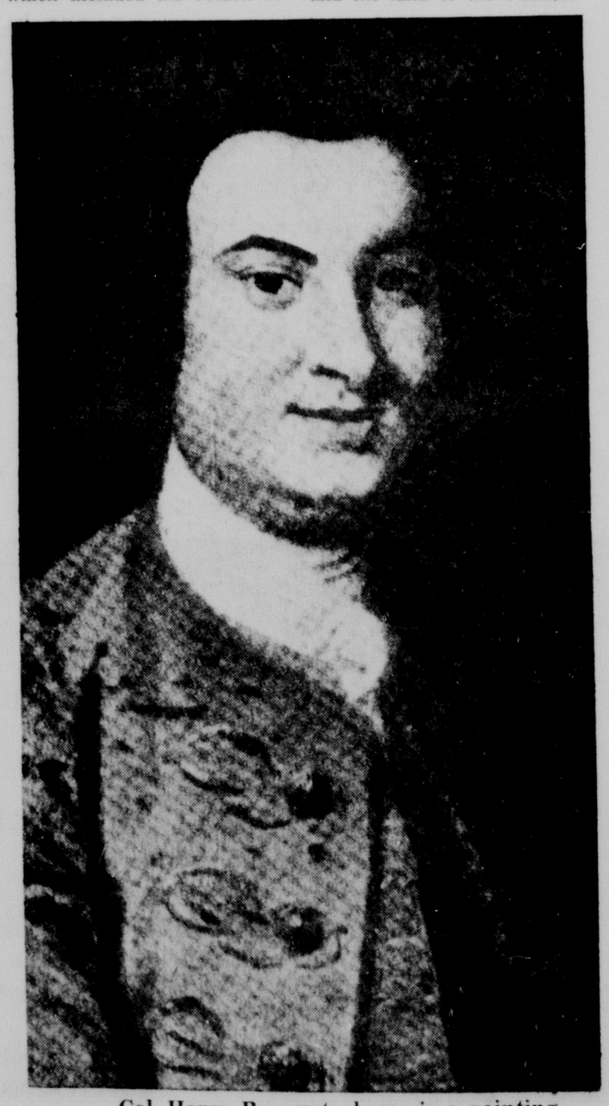

A forest strategy meeting is held by three leaders in a commemoration of the 200th anniversary of Col. Henry Bouquet's expedition against the Indians through this area. Left to right are Tom Pike of Lisbon, Byron Dray of East Liverpool and Robert Kelm of Lisbon.

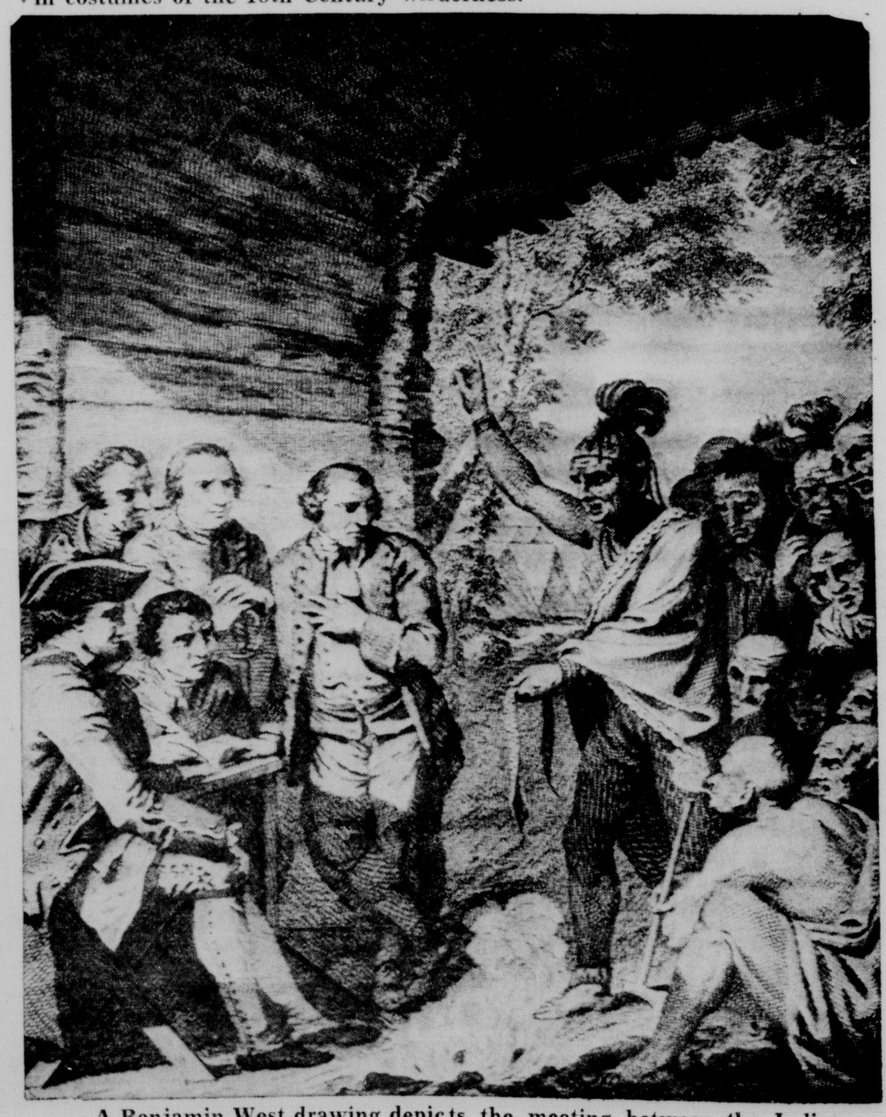

The historical parley between Col. Bouquet and the Indians, which brought a period of peace on the Ohio frontier, is re-enacted by area men in costumes of the 18th Century wilderness.

Striding along a wooded path, like Indians of colonial times, are James Woodrow, right, and Harry Cline, next, both of Wellsville, Dick Thompson of East Liverpool and others who will represent red men in Sunday's commemoration at Lisbon.

Col. Henry Bouquet, shown in a painting, was a native of Switzerland who served in three foreign armies and received honorary citizenship in Pennsylvania and Maryland.

A Benjamin West drawing depicts the meeting between the Indian Chiefs and Col. Henry Bouquet at which he directed them to return their white prisoners in exchange for withdrawal of his powerful force. This was reproduced in "A History of Ohio" Rosenboom.

Visits Near Midland

Heat Just Fine, Says Australian Guest

By ROSE NUZZO

The current heat wave is "just perfect" for an Australian woman who arrived in the area earlier this month to spend the summer with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Porto of Midland View.

Mrs. Wilhemina Bell hails from Queensland, the second largest state in Australia and known as "The Land of the Sun."

Queensland, according to Mrs. Bell, has become the holiday playground of the South Pacific and Australia's top tourist state — drawing thousands each year with its year - round warm weather, magnificent surfing beaches, scenic grandeur and the Great Barrier Reef, described as the Eighth Wonder of the World.

The trip here marks the first time she has left her native land to visit another country and she is enjoying every minute of it, especially with her three grandchildren, two of which she met for the first time—Phyllis 12, and Philip Bruno, 1-year-old. The oldest granddaughter, Carolyn, 19, was born in Australia and came to America with her mother to join her father 18 years ago.

The blue-eyed Australian widow and former dressmaker is keeping busy with the schedule the Portos have planned for her, giving her a chance to see many points of interest.

In comparing customs here to those in her native land, she is intrigued by drugstores, which are called "chemical shops" at home.

In the United States, drugstores provide a wide range of merchandise, including food, toys, beach accessories. But in her homeland, the shops sell only prescriptions and items of the cosmetic line.

The foundations of houses here also interest her since the homes in Australia are built on stilts, allowing air to circulate underneath for coolness.

Our "dusk" period had her confused about the time of day at first, because her native land does not experience twilight—when the sun sets, it is night time, she remarked.

She is a great admirer of trees, and thinks the maples here are beautiful. When asked about trees in her native land—she referred to the gum (eucalyptus) tree which fills all of Australia's hardwood requirements and an appreciable proportion of its newsprint and paper needs. The pine tree is very common there, she said.

She does not hesitate to express her feelings when it comes to our driving habits here and insists that we drive on the wrong side of the road, which makes it a little uncomfortable for her when she is an occupant in a car.

On the subject of food, Mrs. Bell used the word "delicious" in describing the various dishes prepared by her daughter. She said where we enjoy the "hot dog," her people look forward to "hot beef pies" which are sold on many street corners. Time out for a hot cup of tea is a "must" with Mrs. Bell.

She displayed a variety of souvenirs she brought over from her land, including shawls, sea shells, sweater sets, knick knacks made from the gum tree and a toy "koala," the tailless tree - climbing teddy bear which, according to Mrs. Bell is not often seen in the bush.

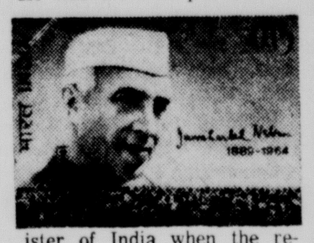

Though it is permanently protected by law, its numbers have not built up, she stated, as it has a slow reproduction rate.

In addition the basic food plants of the koala have been destroyed to some extent by settlement.

She is called "Nanna" by her grandchildren and jokingly remarks that she is too young to be called grandmother. She's leaving that privilege to the next generation, she said.

Stamps In The News

The late Prime Minister Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru has been honored by India on a new 15 naya paisa postage stamp, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The gray stamp depicts a smiling portrait of Nehru looking out on all the people of India. He was the first prime minister of India when the republic was established in 1950. Nehru's activity in the political field made him second in popularity to Gandi. The new stamp also features Nehru's signature and his dates, 1889-1964.

Another new stamp from India is a 15 np gold green and dark brown commemorating the 100th anniversary of the birth of Asutosh Mookerjee, noted judge and vice chancellor of Calcutta University.

The Nevada Centennial Commision, which is going to great lengths to publicize its anniversary celebration, is also beating the drums for the 5 cent Nevada Centennial Stamp which goes on sale July 22. In addition to the Post Office in Carson City, the new stamps will be sold from a headquarters located in an old caboose from the rolling stock of the abandoned V & T Railroad built in 1870 to go between Carson City, Virginia City and Reno.

Here is a quick rundown on upcoming U.S. stamps to be issued after the Nevada Centennial on July 22. The 5 cent 'Register and Vote" stamp at Washington on Aug. 1; 5 cent Shakespeare at Stratford, Conn., on Aug. 14; the Mayo Brothers at Rochester, Minn., on Sept. 11; The 8 cent airmail for Dr. Robert Goddard at Roswell, N.M., on Oct. 5; The 5 cent American Music at New York on Oct. 15.

Tunisia has issued a new stamp honoring its Labor Day. Depicted on the new stamp is a portrait of Mohamed Ali, Tunisian labor leader, reports the World Wide Philatellic Agency. Other stamps issued by Tunisia are: a stamp honoring the first anniversary of the Conference of the Heads of African Nations held in Addis Ababa, Ehiopia; also a set of two for National Day 1964 bearing a protrait of President Bourguiba.

Liechtenstein will issue on Sept. 1 four new stamps featuring famous coats of arms of various families. The 20 r is for counts of Werdenberg-Varduz, 30 r for barons of Bradis, 80 r for counts of Sulz, and the 1 fr for the counts of Hohenems. On the same date Liechtenstein will issue a 50 r stamp dedicated to Europa. Depicted will be a Roman Castle in Schaan.

Ghana has issued a set of four new stamps commemorating the fourth anniversary of Ghana independence. The 3 pence features harvesting corn in a state farm. The 6 pence shows an oil refinery. The 1 shilling 3 pence illustrates communal labor. The 5 pence depicts an outline of people following the flag. Each stamp also bears a vignette portrait of President Nkrumah.

LET'S EXPLORE OHIO STATE PARKS

It is quite possible that Rome was not even a village when a tribe of prehistoric Indians had a thriving civilization in southern Ohio.

These mysterious people, now called the Moundbuilders, were growing corn and beans in the bottom lands along the tributaries of the Scioto River.

Carrying soil in baskets on their heads, these people built their burial mounds and their ceremonial mounds, such as Serpent Mound in Adams County near the present Ohio town of Locust Grove on Route 73.

The earliest pioneers visited and marvelled at this huge, man-made mound which winds its way along a ridge for some 1300 feet. Viewed from the observation tower in Serpent Mound State Park, this ceremonial mound has the form of a huge snake with an egg in its mouth.

It cannot be pure coincidence that the serpent finds its way into the religious art of the ancient Egyptians and the Aztecs and Mayas of Central America.

Today, motoring families by the thousands visit Serpent Mound State Park for picnics, nature trail hikes and other enjoyable outings.

FOOD FAVORITES

Weight watchers — here's the way to avoid the hungry feeling that comes an hour or two after eating a salad meal. Add ready - to - serve meats to your favorite vegetable salads in generous amounts.

You can provide important body - building proteins and give that important stay-with-you quality so often lacking in salad meals.

Sausage meats not only add protein to a salad, but they add an interesting flavor and texture. Cut the sausage into thin strips, squares or wedges, and add it to the salad along with the dressing.

If vegetable salads all look the same, try using two or three different greens. Lettuce, romaine, chicory, curly endive and watercress all have their own distinctive flavor and texture and greatly enhance vegetable salads.

Fresh green peas or slices of raw cauliflower, zucchini or carrot add to the appearance and taste of vegetable salads.

Hearty Summer Salad Bowl

1 package (6 or 7 ounce) sliced salami, bologna, New England brand sausage or luncheon loaf, cut in wedges.
8 cups broken head lettuce
1 cup sliced cauliflower
1 cup sliced zucchini or cucumber
1 cup thinly sliced celery
2 medium ripe tomatoes, cut into wedges
2 hard cooked eggs, cut into wedges
8 to 12 short watercress sprigs
6 small green pepper rings
6 thin onion slices
Freshly ground pepper
French, Italian, Russian or oil and vinegar dressing, as desired.

Arrange meat, vegetables and eggs in chilled salad bowl. Just before serving, sprinkle with pepper, and toss with favorite dressing. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

Cooking Hints

A rice salad is fun to prepare for lunch because you can pick and choose (from what's available) to add to it. Here are suggestions: cooked shrimp and ham; cooked green peas and green beans; celery and green onion. Toss the cold cooked rice with the additions you choose plus an oil - and - vinegar dressing; serve on crisp salad greens and garnish with tomato.

It's a good idea to serve a hot dish on the lunch or supper menu even in warm weather. The hot offering might be chicken broth with strips of cooked ham, water chestnut and green celery.

Fresh green peas, from market or garden, are wonderfully good served with melted butter, but they are also delicious flavored with fresh dill or fresh mint.

Dress cooked celery with heavy cream and add a dusting of paprika and a sprinkling of slivered toasted almonds if you want a vegetable that is definitely company fare.

You And The Law

IN THE JURY ROOM

Many citizens have served as jurors and are aware of what occurs after the evidence has been presented in the courtroom. Other citizens have yet to have the privilege to serve as a juror and become further educated in the American way of law.

Following the trial, the jury retires to the jury room, selects a foreman to preside and begins its deliberations.

In the jury room, each juror should be given a chance to express his or her ideas; he should speak his mind freely and without fear, yet listen to the others with respect and attention; discussion should include an exchange of ideas and a juror should not hesitate to change his views if he feels a change of opinion.

Yet no juror should be pursuaded into changing his mind nor should he change in just to be agreeable with the other jurors; each juror's decision should be fully his own.

The jurors should decide the facts upon the evidence that was presented in the court room and follow the instructions which the judge has given them. They should keep in mind comments the judge may have made concerning the evidence and his instructions concerning the burden of proof.

After the verdict is read in court, either party may have the jury polled and it is the duty of each juror to answer truthfully whether the verdict is his.

The American system of justice depends a great deal on the integrity and honesty of those who serve as jurors. While witnesses are essential in presenting the facts of the case and are vital to seeing that justice is served, jurors serve as high a purpose in weighing the information presented in a trial and rendering a verdict.

Jury duty is not something to be scoffed at, slighted or dodged. Remember, someday you may be involved in litigation. Would you want a jury box filled with reluctant jurors? Jury duty is a privilege we enjoy in America only because persons have fought and died to keep our system of justice alive. Without willing jurors, justice cannot be served.

(This article is based upon the Law of Ohio. It is not intended to advise anyone on a specific problem. No person should ever attempt to apply or interpret any law without the advice of a lawyer).

Spadea Designer Pattern

Women adore the multiple advantages of costumes which not only relate each part to the other but can stand alone as separate units to be ensembled as desired.

Ben Barrack's versatile arrangement features an easy-fitting waist-cropped jacket, a delightfully feminine blouse and two becoming skirt shapes. With its shawl collar set away from the neck to show off the blouse's ripply bow, the jacket is skirted to the new season with two equally flattering silhouettes — the flaring gored style or the slim model.

The pretty back - buttoned blouse is treated to an all-over lingerie-tucked front which is especially effective in chiffon or other sheer fabrics. For the jacket and skirts, we suggest any of the wonderful new wools or silk and wool blends now being offered. Other suggestions are faille, shantung, raw silk, suiting cottons or linen.

An interesting effect is achieved when plain or printed silk crepe or cotton is used for the blouse and repeated for the jacket lining. Separate patterns for each item enable you to order different sizes if you wish. To select your correct size, use Spadea's exclusive ready - to - wear size chart.

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips	*Length
14	36½	27½	37½	17
16	38	29	39	17¼
18	40	31	41	17½

Ex-Area Man Kept Busy In Ceramic Art

A former Hancock County resident nearing his 80th birthday anniversary is busier than ever these days as an expert in ceramics at an art center in Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Silver-haired and in glowing health, Ernest Wilson teaches two classes in ceramics each day at the art center, and presides over an all-day workshop on Tuesdays.

In addition, the former Newell potter spends three days a week in nearby Norris, Tenn., advising employes of the U. S. Bureau of Mines on a current project there.

A consultant in 31 distinct crafts in the ceramic industry, he is largely self-educated and has taught special courses at the University of Alabama, Tuskegee Institute and the Colorado School of Mines.

He is co-founder with his son-in-law, Douglas Ferguson, of the Pigeon Forge Pottery near Gatlinburg, Tenn. The tourist attraction is operated by his son-in-law and daughter.

At an Oak Ridge Festival Art Show in June, Wilson's vases, cups and bowls turned out on his potter's wheel were among the featured attractions. He obtained the clay from the banks around the center. Also displayed was a replica of a tea set he was commissioned by the governor to produce as a gift to the Queen of England.

Wilson has helped establish new ceramic plants in various parts of the country during his long career as a ceramics expert. He and his wife also take pride in their vegetable garden at their home in Oak Ridge.

Wilson was reared in Newell, and is well-remembered by a boyhood chum, Joseph Dickey, 202 Madison Ave., New Cumberland.

Medical Tips

Expecting a new baby in your family? Perhaps your first? And getting almost panicky at the thought that you will be responsible for the care, feeding and well being of a tiny new human life?

Be assured by the fact that other people — also without special training — have brought up children who successfully grew into healthy, emotionally stable and highly productive members of society, says a new American Medical Association pamphlet, "A Child in the Family."

The first few weeks at home the baby gets to know you, and you learn a few things about him, too. Most important, you learn that he is an individual with likes and dislikes and a willingness to express them. Also, you will discover that he is rather sturdy and won't break with reasonable handling. He needs lots of sleep, but awakes often and hungry.

Your doctor can help much in giving you pointers on care of the baby, but no physician can anticipate every situation and tell parents exactly what to do. There is no one right way to bring up babies. The relaxed parent can enjoy his baby and do what is right for him most of the time, though an occasional problem will require the doctor's advice.

Breast feeding or bottle feeding is a perennial argument with good opinion on both sides, talk it over with your doctor.

Sleep is essential. During the early weeks, baby sleeps practically all of the time. He awakens only when hungry. Awake in his crib, place baby so he can see what is going on around him. Covering the sides of the crib to prevent drafts also reduces his view and his chance to learn about and respond to his environment.

Crying is baby's language. It's his way to show discomfort, protest against hunger, pain, being wet and being cold, and to demand the attention he wants. Until he learns to talk, it is his only means of attracting attention to his needs and desires.

Discipline is training for living. It must start early, be constant and consistent, and guide the child in what to do, as well as what not to do. Children need a discipline that sets limits for them. They must learn to accept authority, but it should be a firm, reasonable, kind authority that deserves respect.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I sharpen my kitchen food grinder?

A. A dull grinder can often be sharpened merely by putting a piece of scouring powder cake through it as you would food. Then wash in hot soapsuds and rinse thoroughly before using again.

Q. How can I soften the leather in a pair of cheap shoes?

A. Try placing two scrubbed potatoes in each shoe, and letting them stand overnight.

Q. How can I drive a nail or screw into wood without danger of splitting the wood?

A. First push the nail or screw through some hard soap, or dip it into melted paraffin.

Q. How can I remove crayon markings from wallpaper?

A. Cover with a paste made of fuller's earth and carbon tetrachloride, allow this to dry, then brush it off.

Residents Pave Own Street With 'Donation'

A contractor donated enough asphalt, left from a nearby job, to pave a 30-foot strip; then sold enough material at a discount to finish the job.

Heat Just Fine, Says Australian Guest

By ROSE NUZZO

The current heat wave is "just perfect" for an Australian woman who arrived in the area earlier this month to spend the summer with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Porto of Midland View.

Mrs. Wilhemina Bell hails from Queensland, the second largest state in Australia and known as "The Land of the Sun."

Queensland, according to Mrs. Bell, has become the holiday playground of the South Pacific and Australia's top tourist state — drawing thousands each year with its year - round warm weather, magnificent surfing beaches, scenic grandeur and the Great Barrier Reef, described as the Eighth Wonder of the World.

The trip here marks the first time she has left her native land to visit another country and she is enjoying every minute of it, especially with her three grandchildren, two of which she met for the first time—Phyllis 12, and Philip Bruno, 1-year-old. The oldest granddaughter, Carolyn, 19, was born in Australia and came to America with her mother to join her father 18 years ago.

The blue-eyed Australian widow and former dressmaker is keeping busy with the schedule the Portos have planned for her, giving her a chance to see many points of interest.

In comparing customs here to those in her native land, she is intrigued by drugstores, which are called "chemical shops" at home.

In the United States, drugstores provide a wide range of merchandise, including food, toys, beach accessories. But in her homeland, the shops sell only prescriptions and items of the cosmetic line.

The foundations of houses here also interest her since the homes in Australia are built on stilts, allowing air to circulate underneath for coolness.

Our "dusk" period had her confused about the time of day at first, because her native land does not experience twilight—when the sun sets, it is night time, she remarked.

She is a great admirer of trees, and thinks the maples here are beautiful. When asked about trees in her native land—she referred to the gum (eucalyptus) tree which fills all of Australia's hardwood requirements and an appreciable proportion of its newsprint and paper needs. The pine tree is very common there, she said.

She does not hesitate to express her feelings when it comes to our driving habits here and insists that we drive on the wrong side of the road, which makes it a little uncomfortable for her when she is an occupant in a car.

On the subject of food, Mrs. Bell used the word "delicious" in describing the various dishes prepared by her daughter. She said where we enjoy the "hot dog," her people look forward to "hot beef pies" which are sold on many street corners. Time out for a hot cup of tea is a "must" with Mrs. Bell.

She displayed a variety of souvenirs she brought over from her land, including shawls, sea shells, sweater sets, knick knacks made from the gum tree and a toy "koala," the tailless tree - climbing teddy bear which, according to Mrs. Bell is not often seen in the bush.

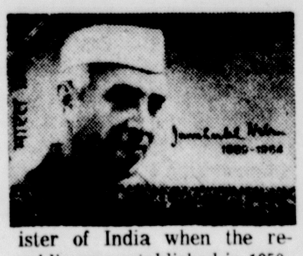

Though it is permanently protected by law, its numbers have not built up, she stated, as it has a slow reproduction rate.

In addition the basic food plants of the koala have been destroyed to some extent by settlement.

She is called "Nanna" by her grandchildren and jokingly remarks that she is too young to be called grandmother. She's leaving that privilege to the next generation, she said.

Stamps In The News

The late Prime Minister Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru has been honored by India on a new 15 naya paisa postage stamp, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The gray stamp depicts a smiling portrait of Nehru looking out on all the people of India. He was the first prime minister of India when the republic was established in 1950. Nehru's activity in the political field made him second in popularity to Gandi. The new stamp also features Nehru's signature and his dates, 1889-1964.

Another new stamp from India is a 15 np gold green and dark brown commemorating the 100th anniversary of the birth of Asutosh Mookerjee, noted judge and vice chancellor of Calcutta University.

The Nevada Centennial Commision, which is going to great lengths to publicize its anniversary celebration, is also beating the drums for the 5 cent Nevada Centennial Stamp which goes on sale July 22. In addition to the Post Office in Carson City, the new stamps will be sold from a headquarters located in an old caboose from the rolling stock of the abandoned V & T Railroad built in 1870 to go between Carson City, Virginia City and Reno.

Here is a quick rundown on upcoming U.S. stamps to be issued after the Nevada Centennial on July 22. The 5 cent 'Register and Vote" stamp at Washington on Aug. 1; 5 cent Shakespeare at Stratford, Conn., on Aug. 14; the Mayo Brothers at Rochester, Minn., on Sept. 11; The 8 cent airmail for Dr. Robert Goddard at Roswell, N.M., on Oct. 5; The 5 cent American Music at New York on Oct. 15.

Tunisia has issued a new stamp honoring its Labor Day. Depicted on the new stamp is a portrait of Mohamed Ali, Tunisian labor leader, reports the World Wide Philatellic Agency. Other stamps issued by Tunisia are: a stamp honoring the first anniversary of the Conference of the Heads of African Nations held in Addis Ababa, Ehiopia; also a set of two for National Day 1964 bearing a protrait of President Bourguiba.

Liechtenstein will issue on Sept. 1 four new stamps featuring famous coats of arms of various families. The 20 r is for counts of Werdenberg-Varduz, 30 r for barons of Bradis, 80 r for counts of Sulz, and the 1 fr for the counts of Hohenems. On the same date Liechtenstein will issue a 50 r stamp dedicated to Europa. Depicted will be a Roman Castle in Schaan.

Ghana has issued a set of four new stamps commemorating the fourth anniversary of Ghana independence. The 3 pence features harvesting corn in a state farm. The 6 pence shows an oil refinery. The 1 shilling 3 pence illustrates communal labor. The 5 pence depicts an outline of people following the flag. Each stamp also bears a vignette portrait of President Nkrumah.

LET'S EXPLORE OHIO STATE PARKS

It is quite possible that Rome was not even a village when a tribe of prehistoric Indians had a thriving civilization in southern Ohio.

These mysterious people, now called the Moundbuilders, were growing corn and beans in the bottom lands along the tributaries of the Scioto River.

Carrying soil in baskets on their heads, these people built their burial mounds and their ceremonial mounds, such as Serpent Mound in Adams County near the present Ohio town of Locust Grove on Route 73.

The earliest pioneers visited and marvelled at this huge, man-made mound which winds its way along a ridge for some 1300 feet. Viewed from the observation tower in Serpent Mound State Park, this ceremonial mound has the form of a huge snake with an egg in its mouth.

It cannot be pure coincidence that the serpent finds its way into the religious art of the ancient Egyptians and the Aztecs and Mayas of Central America.

Today, motoring families by the thousands visit Serpent Mound State Park for picnics, nature trail hikes and other enjoyable outings.

FOOD FAVORITES

Weight watchers — here's the way to avoid the hungry feeling that comes an hour or two after eating a salad meal. Add ready - to - serve meats to your favorite vegetable salads in generous amounts.

You can provide important body - building proteins and give that important stay-with-you quality so often lacking in salad meals.

Sausage meats not only add protein to a salad, but they add an interesting flavor and texture. Cut the sausage into thin strips, squares or wedges, and add it to the salad along with the dressing.

If vegetable salads all look the same, try using two or three different greens. Lettuce, romaine, chicory, curly endive and watercress all have their own distinctive flavor and texture and greatly enhance vegetable salads.

Fresh green peas or slices of raw cauliflower, zucchini or carrot add to the appearance and taste of vegetable salads.

Hearty Summer Salad Bowl

1 package (6 or 7 ounce) sliced salami, bologna, New England brand sausage or luncheon loaf, cut in wedges.
8 cups broken head lettuce
1 cup sliced cauliflower
1 cup sliced zucchini or cucumber
1 cup thinly sliced celery
2 medium ripe tomatoes, cut into wedges
2 hard cooked eggs, cut into wedges
8 to 12 short watercress sprigs
6 small green pepper rings
6 thin onion slices
Freshly ground pepper
French, Italian, Russian or oil and vinegar dressing, as desired.

Arrange meat, vegetables and eggs in chilled salad bowl. Just before serving, sprinkle with pepper, and toss with favorite dressing. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

Cooking Hints

A rice salad is fun to prepare for lunch because you can pick and choose (from what's available) to add to it. Here are suggestions: cooked shrimp and ham; cooked green peas and green beans; celery and green onion. Toss the cold cooked rice with the additions you choose plus an oil - and - vinegar dressing; serve on crisp salad greens and garnish with tomato.

It's a good idea to serve a hot dish on the lunch or supper menu even in warm weather. The hot offering might be chicken broth with strips of cooked ham, water chestnut and green celery.

Fresh green peas, from market or garden, are wonderfully good served with melted butter, but they are also delicious flavored with fresh dill or fresh mint.

Dress cooked celery with heavy cream and add a dusting of paprika and a sprinkling of slivered toasted almonds if you want a vegetable that is definitely company fare.

You And The Law

IN THE JURY ROOM

Many citizens have served as jurors and are aware of what occurs after the evidence has been presented in the courtroom. Other citizens have yet to have the privilege to serve as a juror and become further educated in the American way of law.

Following the trial, the jury retires to the jury room, selects a foreman to preside and begins its deliberations.

In the jury room, each juror should be given a chance to express his or her ideas; he should speak his mind freely and without fear, yet listen to the others with respect and attention; discussion should include an exchange of ideas and a juror should not hesitate to change his views if he feels a change of opinion.

Yet no juror should be pursuaded into changing his mind nor should he change in just to be agreeable with the other jurors; each juror's decision should be fully his own.

The jurors should decide the facts upon the evidence that was presented in the court room and follow the instructions which the judge has given them. They should keep in mind comments the judge may have made concerning the evidence and his instructions concerning the burden of proof.

After the verdict is read in court, either party may have the jury polled and it is the duty of each juror to answer truthfully whether the verdict is his.

The American system of justice depends a great deal on the integrity and honesty of those who serve as jurors. While witnesses are essential in presenting the facts of the case and are vital to seeing that justice is served, jurors serve as high a purpose in weighing the information presented in a trial and rendering a verdict.

Jury duty is not something to be scoffed at, slighted or dodged. Remember, someday you may be involved in litigation. Would you want a jury box filled with reluctant jurors? Jury duty is a privilege we enjoy in America only because persons have fought and died to keep our system of justice alive. Without willing jurors, justice cannot be served.

(This article is based upon the Law of Ohio. It is not intended to advise anyone on a specific problem. No person should ever attempt to apply or interpret any law without the advice of a lawyer).

Spadea Designer Pattern

Women adore the multiple advantages of costumes which not only relate each part to the other but can stand alone as separate units to be ensembled as desired.

Ben Barrack's versatile arrangement features an easy-fitting waist-cropped jacket, a delightfully feminine blouse and two becoming skirt shapes. With its shawl collar set away from the neck to show off the blouse's ripply bow, the jacket is skirted to the new season with two equally flattering silhouettes — the flaring gored style or the slim model.

The pretty back - buttoned blouse is treated to an all-over lingerie-tucked front which is especially effective in chiffon or other sheer fabrics. For the jacket and skirts, we suggest any of the wonderful new wools or silk and wool blends now being offered. Other suggestions are faille, shantung, raw silk, suiting cottons or linen.

An interesting effect is achieved when plain or printed silk crepe or cotton is used for the blouse and repeated for the jacket lining. Separate patterns for each item enable you to order different sizes if you wish. To select your correct size, use Spadea's exclusive ready - to - wear size chart.

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips	*Length
14	36½	27½	37½	17

Areas Defined For Beaver's ASC Balloting

Glenn Campbell, chairman of the Beaver County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, today announced the designation and boundaries of each community within the county for election of Community Committeemen to serve for 1965. They are:

Community 1 — Frankfort-Greene and Hanover Townships.

Community 3 — Brighton - Industry and Ohio Townships.

Community 4 — Big Beaver-South Beaver - Chippewa and Darlington Townships.

Community 5 — Economy - New Sewickley and Rochester.

Community 6 — Daugherty-Franklin - Marion and North Sewickley Townships.

He reminded farmers that three committeemen and two alternates will be elected for each community. The chairman, vice chairman and regular member of the elected ASC committee will also serve respectively as delegate, alternate delegate and second alternate delegate to the county convention to be held soon thereafter, when the ASC county committee will be chosen.

Farmers eligible to cast ballots in the election will be all those who are participating or are eligible to participate in one or more of the national farm programs which the committeemen help to administer locally, and who are of legal voting age and a farm owner, tenant, or sharecropper. Persons not of legal age who are in charge of the farming operations on an entire farm are also eligible to vote.

Programs administered by the ASC county and community committees include the Agricultural conservation Program, the voluntary wheat program, the sugar act program, the national wool program, farm storage facility loans and others as assigned by the secretary of agriculture.

5 Drivers Fined; 5 Forfeit Bonds

LISBON — Five drivers, including a trucker, were fined by County Judge James L. MacDonald Friday and five others forfeited appearance bonds in other State Highway Patrol cases.

The $10 fine of Richard Moody, 30, of Malvern was suspended. He was cited for driving a commercial vehicle without a chauffeur's licenses. Others fined were Allen R. Vance, 23, Carrollton, $15 for speeding; Lewis R. Reed, 43, Lisbon R.D. 5, $10 for passing traffic at the crest of a hill; Anthony L. Alberts, 48, Steubenville, $5 for failing to obey a stop sign, and Harry K. Phillips, 38, of Salem, $5 for towing a motor vehicle without registration plates.

Forfeits were Kenneth D. Sapp, 28, Cleveland, $20 for passing at an intersection; Robert Nichols, 21, Canton, $15 for no mud flaps on a truck; Samuel J. Camps, 18, Washington, Pa., $15 for driving an unsafe vehicle, and Kenneth P. Moore, 23, of 247 Lisbon St., East Liverpool, and Hubert Thompson, 30, Ashtabula, $15 each for speeding.

Voice In Presidential Voting Given To New Ohio Residents

The general election Nov. 3 will mark the second time that new Ohio residents will be given an opportunity to vote for President and vice president even though they are not qualified under the law to express a choice on other public officials, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the County Election Board, pointed out today.

Legislation enacted in 1959, implementing a Constitutional amendment approved in 1957, meant that comparatively new residents of Ohio no longer would be disfranchised in Presidential elections.

Even though they have resided in Ohio less than a year—but have been citizens of the Buckeye State for 40 days or more — they may cast ballots on the nation's two top offices.

Ohio was one of the first states in the nation to respond to an outcry that rose throughout the nation following the 1956 general election. A person who moved from one state to another not long before a Presidential election found he could not return to his former state of residence to vote and he had not been a resident of his new home long enough to be qualified.

Ohio was in the vanguard of the states allowing Presidential voting on the part of comparatively new residents.

The new law applied for the first time in 1960 Presidential balloting in Ohio. Secretary of State Ted W. Brown commented at Columbus that the number applying for the special privilege was not as high as expected in 1960, but he said unfamiliarity with the law may have been the reason.

O'Hanlon said the Columbiana County board issued 43 of the special ballots for the 1960 election. Applications for the special voting privilege in the 1964 election cannot be accepted before Sept. 23, he explained.

Brown introduced a resolution in the 1956 conference of the National Association of Secretaries of State seeking aid in changing state constitutions and laws which disfranchised millions of voters through lengthy residence requirements.

Since adoption of the constitutional change by the voters and implementing legislation by the State Legislature, many states have adopted similar legislation.

They include Alabama, Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Illinois, Kansas, Maine, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, Oregon and Wisconsin.

Newell Woman Hurt In Collision Of 2 Cars

Barbara Cenoweth, 30, of 9 Washington St., Newell, remains in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in a two-car crash Thursday at 9:30 a. m. at the intersection of Routes 7 and 213 at Yellow Creek below Wellsville.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said a car driven by Delbert Patterson, 23, of Toronto R. D. 2 pulled into the path of the Newell woman's car. Patterson had been parked along the berm, officers said.

2 Teen-Agers Teeter Way To Totter Title

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—David Williams teetered and Pat McCook tottered as they walked away Friday from a teeter-totter where they had spent the past 101 hours going up and down.

The 13-year-olds surpassed a 100-hour stint by two students in 1951 at College of the Pacific, and claimed the world seesaw record.

As one observer said: "It sort of looked like they did the whole thing by the seat of their pants."

Cumberland Woman Is Rifle Instructor

Miss Margaret Ann Miller of New Cumberland R. D. 1, has been appointed a certified rifle instructor, the National Rifle Association of America announced today.

Miss Miller is now qualified to conduct local classes in firearms operation, safe gun handling and the techniques of shooting on the target range and in the field. She joins the ranks of personnel maintained by the NRA throughout the country in its small arms education program.

Florida Cites 5 Of Klan In Cross Blaze

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Five men identified as Ku Klux Klansmen have been charged with cross-burning as the state attorney general vowed to "vigorously pursue law breakers until peace returns" to embattled St. Augustine.

Florida State Atty. Gen. Dan Warren said he would swear out additional warrants today charging several persons with fostering violence.

He obtained five warrants Friday naming the alleged Klansmen, including two from out of state, with burning a cross on private property without permission.

The charges were the first against Klan leaders since racial violence broke out two months ago.

Friday morning a fire bomb exploded in the empty dining room of a motor lodge, whose owner had agreed at one time to integrate but then refused when white segregationists began picketing.

Besides massive melees that broke out when Negroes marched in the city's streets and tried to swim on white beaches, there have been many small incidents. Whites have attacked small groups of Negroes repeatedly and on occasion chased them through the streets in automobiles.

Those charged in connection with the cross-burning on the property of a baking company were J.B. Stoner of Atlanta, an attorney for the Klan; Connie Lynch of San Bernardino, Calif., a fiery segregationist who has led many Klan rallies; Paul Cochran, identified by the state attorney as a Klansman from Jacksonville; and Bill Coleman, a St. Augustine resident the state attorney said was a KKK leader.

The charges are misdemeanors with penalties of a $500 fine and a 90-day jail sentence.

Watershed Plan Topic Of Hearing

The Jefferson County Soil and Water Conservation District Board of Supervisors said a public hearing will be held by the Ohio Water Commission Aug. 5 to consider an application for assistance in creating a Short Creek watershed under the Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act.

Purpose of the hearing at Adena High School at 8 p. m. is to hear both proponents and opponents to proposed watershed improvement projects under the U.S. Soil Conservation Service program as applied for recently by officials of Adena and Dillonvale and of the counties and soil conservation districts in the affected area, which includes portions of Harrison and Jefferson counties.

The hearing will follow a field inspection to be made earlier that day by a reviewing team from the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

All supervisors, along with Soil Conservationists Russell C. Mills and Gabriel Rozsa, district clerk, Mrs. James Mead and the outstanding farmer of the year, Robert Simeral of Adena, will attend the 19th annual state school for soil and water conservation district supervisors at Wooster College Wednesday. The district will be presented the first-place Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.'s annual soil and water conservation award for 1963.

Crucible Worker In Canada Visits

Guilbault was presented stainless steel cups as a momento of his visit to Midland. He spent two days at the Sanderson-Halcomb Works at Syracuse, N. Y.

Guilbault has been employed with the company at Sorel since 1959 and is a former president of the local union there, which is affiliated with the Confederation of Nationale Trade Union.

He was accompanied on his vacation by his wife, Mrs. Celene Guilbault, and son, Sylvain.

Canton Child Killed

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A station wagon and a compact car collided headon southwest of here Friday night, killing Rhonda Benfield, an infant girl from Canton. The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Benfield, were reported in critical condition in Aultman Hospital. Their son, Jeffrey, 4, was injured less seriously.

Areas Defined For Beaver's ASC Balloting

Glenn Campbell, chairman of the Beaver County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, today announced the designation and boundaries of each community within the county for election of Community Committeemen to serve for 1965. They are:

Community 1 — Frankfort-Greene and Hanover Townships.

Community 3 — Brighton - Industry and Ohio Townships.

Community 5 — Economy - New Sewickley and Rochester.

Community 6 — Daugherty-Franklin - Marion and North Sewickley Townships.

He reminded farmers that three committeemen and two alternates will be elected for each community. The chairman, vice chairman and regular member of the elected ASC committee will also serve respectively as delegate, alternate delegate and second alternate delegate to the county convention to be held soon thereafter, when the ASC county committee will be chosen.

Farmers eligible to cast ballots in the election will be all those who are participating or are eligible to participate in one or more of the national farm programs which the committeemen help to administer locally, and who are of legal voting age and a farm owner, tenant, or sharecropper. Persons not of legal age who are in charge of the farming operations on an entire farm are also eligible to vote.

Programs administered by the ASC county and community committees include the Agricultural conservation Program, the voluntary wheat program, the sugar act program, farm storage facility loans and others as assigned by the secretary of agriculture.

5 Drivers Fined; 5 Forfeit Bonds

LISBON — Five drivers, including a trucker, were fined by County Judge James L. MacDonald Friday and five others forfeited appearance bonds in other State Highway Patrol cases.

The $10 fine of Richard Moody, 30, of Malvern was suspended. He was cited for driving a commercial vehicle without a chauffeur's licenses. Others fined were Allen R. Vance, 23, Carrollton, $15 for speeding; Lewis R. Reed, 43, Lisbon R.D. 5, $10 for passing traffic at the crest of a hill; Anthony L. Alberts, 48, Steubenville, $5 for failing to obey a stop sign, and Harry K. Phillips, 38, of Salem, $5 for towing a motor vehicle without registration plates.

Forfeits were Kenneth D. Sapp, 28, Cleveland, $20 for passing at an intersection; Robert Nichols, 21, Canton, $15 for no mud flaps on a truck; Samuel J. Camps, 18, Washington, Pa., $15 for driving an unsafe vehicle, and Kenneth P. Moore, 23, of 247 Lisbon St., East Liverpool, and Hubert Thompson, 30, Ashtabula, $15 each for speeding.

Voice In Presidential Voting Given To New Ohio Residents

The general election Nov. 3 will mark the second time that new Ohio residents will be given an opportunity to vote for President and vice president even though they are not qualified under the law to express a choice on other public officials, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the County Election Board, pointed out today.

Legislation enacted in 1959, implementing a Constitutional amendment approved in 1957, meant that comparatively new residents of Ohio no longer would be disfranchised in Presidential elections.

Even though they have resided in Ohio less than a year—but have been citizens of the Buckeye State for 40 days or more — they may cast ballots on the nation's two top offices.

Ohio was one of the first states in the nation to respond to an outcry that rose throughout the nation following the 1956 general election. A person who moved from one state to another not long before a Presidential election found he could not return to his former state of residence to vote and he had not been a resident of his new home long enough to be qualified.

Ohio was in the vanguard of the states allowing Presidential voting on the part of comparatively new residents.

The new law applied for the first time in 1960 Presidential balloting in Ohio. Secretary of State Ted W. Brown commented at Columbus that the number applying for the special privilege was not as high as expected in 1960, but he said unfamiliarity with the law may have been the reason.

O'Hanlon said the Columbiana County board issued 43 of the special ballots for the 1960 election. Applications for the special voting privilege in the 1964 election cannot be accepted before Sept. 23, he explained.

Brown introduced a resolution in the 1956 conference of the National Association of Secretaries of State seeking aid in changing state constitutions and laws which disfranchised millions of voters through lengthy residence requirements.

Since adoption of the constitutional change by the voters and implementing legislation by the State Legislature, many states have adopted similar legislation.

They include Alabama, Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Illinois, Kansas, Maine, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, Oregon and Wisconsin.

Newell Woman Hurt In Collision Of 2 Cars

Barbara Cenoweth, 30, of 9 Washington St., Newell, remains in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in a two-car crash Thursday at 9:30 a. m. at the intersection of Routes 7 and 213 at Yellow Creek below Wellsville.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said a car driven by Delbert Patterson, 23, of Toronto R. D. 2 pulled into the path of the Newell woman's car. Patterson had been parked along the berm, officers said.

2 Teen-Agers Teeter Way To Totter Title

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—David Williams teetered and Pat McCook tottered as they walked away Friday from a teeter-totter where they had spent the past 101 hours going up and down.

As one observer said: "It sort of looked like they did the whole thing by the seat of their pants."

Cumberland Woman Is Rifle Instructor

Miss Margaret Ann Miller of New Cumberland R. D. 1, has been appointed a certified rifle instructor, the National Rifle Association of America announced today.

Miss Miller is now qualified to conduct local classes in firearms operation, safe gun handling and the techniques of shooting on the target range and in the field. She joins the ranks of personnel maintained by the NRA throughout the country in its small arms education program.

Florida Cites 5 Of Klan In Cross Blaze

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Five men identified as Ku Klux Klansmen have been charged with cross-burning as the state attorney general vowed to "vigorously pursue law breakers until peace returns" to embattled St. Augustine.

Florida State Atty. Gen. Dan Warren said he would swear out additional warrants today charging several persons with fostering violence.

He obtained five warrants Friday naming the alleged Klansmen, including two from out of state, with burning a cross on private property without permission.

The charges were the first against Klan leaders since racial violence broke out two months ago.

Friday morning a fire bomb exploded in the empty dining room of a motor lodge, whose owner had agreed at one time to integrate but then refused when white segregationists began picketing.

Besides massive melees that broke out when Negroes marched in the city's streets and tried to swim on white beaches, there have been many small incidents. Whites have attacked small groups of Negroes repeatedly and on occasion chased them through the streets in automobiles.

Those charged in connection with the cross-burning on the property of a baking company were J.B. Stoner of Atlanta, an attorney for the Klan; Connie Lynch of San Bernardino, Calif., a fiery segregationist who has led many Klan rallies; Paul Cochran, identified by the state attorney as a Klansman from Jacksonville; and Bill Coleman, a St. Augustine resident the state attorney said was a KKK leader.

The charges are misdemeanors with penalties of a $500 fine and a 90-day jail sentence.

Watershed Plan Topic Of Hearing

The Jefferson County Soil and Water Conservation District Board of Supervisors said a public hearing will be held by the Ohio Water Commission Aug. 5 to consider an application for assistance in creating a Short Creek watershed under the Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act.

Purpose of the hearing at Adena High School at 8 p. m. is to hear both proponents and opponents to proposed watershed improvement projects under the U.S. Soil Conservation Service program as applied for recently by officials of Adena and Dillonvale and of the counties and soil conservation districts in the affected area, which includes portions of Harrison and Jefferson counties.

The hearing will follow a field inspection to be made earlier that day by a reviewing team from the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

All supervisors, along with Soil Conservationists Russell C. Mills and Gabriel Rozsa, district clerk, Mrs. James Mead and the outstanding farmer of the year, Robert Simeral of Adena, will attend the 19th annual state school for soil and water conservation district supervisors at Wooster College Wednesday. The district will be presented the first-place Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.'s annual soil and water conservation award for 1963.

Crucible Worker In Canada Visits

Guilbault was presented stainless steel cups as a momento of his visit to Midland. He spent two days at the Sanderson-Halcomb Works at Syracuse, N. Y.

Guilbault has been employed with the company at Sorel since 1959 and is a former president of the local union there, which is affiliated with the Confederation of Nationale Trade Union.

He was accompanied on his vacation by his wife, Mrs. Celene Guilbault, and son, Sylvain.

Canton Child Killed

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A station wagon and a compact car collided headon southwest of here Friday night, killing Rhonda Benfield, an infant girl from Canton. The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Benfield, were reported in critical condition in Aultman Hospital. Their son, Jeffrey, 4, was injured less seriously.

Special Award Presented

62 Graduates Get Caps In Gray Ladies Program

Caps, pins and certificates were presented them by Mrs. Sarah Davis, director of nurses at the hospital, Mrs. Helen Bemis, surgical and medical supervisor; Miss Nell Robinson, hospital administrator; Mrs. Lucille Singer, Grey Lady recorder, and Mrs. Marie Hayes.

Gold discs representing over 2,000 hours of service to area hospitals were awarded to three women who were former Grey Lady graduates — Miss Phyllis Crook of the Osteopathic Hospital, and Miss Lena Palmasino and Mrs. Eva Hilton of City Hospital.

Also presented with a special award was Mrs. Florence Gloeckner of the 1961-62 class. She contributed 1,616 hours of service this year.

Miss Robinson and Dr. Hayes also presented four other formal Grey Lady graduates with silver discs for 1,000 or more hours service. They were Mrs. Ruth Wollam of the Osteopathic Hospital and Miss Mary K. Bryan, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Marion Thompson of City Hospital.

Miss Carolyn Smith of this year's class and Miss Marianne Emmerling of the 1963 class were given special recognition for the greatest number of hours of service when each of them were graduated.

Altogether, the new and past graduates of Grey Ladies chalked up a total of 46,874 hours of service to several hospitals during the past year.

The ceremonies were opened by Harry J. English, local Red Cross chairman, and Miss Robinson. The opening was followed with an address from Mrs. Fred Skinkle, volunteer field consultant of the American Red Cross of Steubenville.

Mrs. Gloeckner, soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Helen Monier. Mrs. Lucile Miraglata was organist.

The procession of graduates was led by Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Bemis. Mrs. Thompson gave an address following the award presentations.

A reception for the 150 persons present followed on the main floor after the award ceremonies which were held in a classroom on the lower floor of the nursing home. Mrs. Evelyn Balser, chairman of the Red Cross Canteen, and her committee were in charge of refreshments.

Sunday, the Grey Ladies will donate 150 dozen cookies which they made to the veterans at the Leech Farm Hospital in Pittsburgh.

Crime

Officers tentatively identified the suspects as Joseph Dunn, 34, Jack P. Plant, alias Charles Kane, 44, and Dennis St. John, alias Roy Kelley, 25, all of Philadelphia, and Thomas Murgson, 28, alias Louis J. Lippolis, 28, of New York City.

In their investigations, officers said they learned that the quartet is wanted for questioning in three states, including Florida, South Carolina and New Jersey.

Officers filed an initial charge against three of the men on suspected larceny of a motor vehicle, when they could not provide papers showing they had legally rented the auto in Pittsburgh.

But the larceny charge was later dropped and the men held for questioning on detainers. They were given hearings before Justice of the Peace Milton Richeal of West Mayfield and committed later to Beaver County Jail.

State Police said the quartet has been in the area about a week, posing as home improvement salesmen. Officers asked that area residents who might have done business with the men contact the State Police Barracks.

Driver Fined $150

LISBON — Ralph Cehrs, 34, of Lisbon R.D. 4 was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three day in jail Friday night by Mayor Dean Stockman for driving while intoxicated. He was cited by Capt. John Varner at 2:30 a.m. Friday.

Hancock Gaming Devices Burned

WEIRTON — State Police destroyed an estimated $1,000 in gaming equipment seized from Hancock County taverns Friday at a dump on Pennsylvania Ave.

The assortment included a poker table and gaming clock seized at the Cactus Bar on Route 30 near Chester, an electric clock at the Holiday Lounge on Route 66 and another from Hilltop Inn on Route 30, and an electric clock and console-type slot machine seized at Club Daily Double on Route 66, all on July 6, 1963.

Fifteen slot machines confiscated in the same State Police raids at American Legion posts in Chester and Newell were ordered returned last year by court order on grounds of illegal seizure.

Postal Contract Ends London Strike Threat

LONDON (AP)—A nationwide strike by Britain's 120,000 mailmen scheduled to start at midnight tonight has been called off.

A settlement reached Friday will provide 6½ per cent pay increases for the mailmen retroactive to January 1. The delivery men and sorters had sought a 10 per cent boost in their basic average wage of 12 pounds ($33.60) a week.

Sheppard

Bailey said this was the first time the theory had been made public. Sheppard said neither he nor any members of his family had heard Bailey's opinion before. The attorney said he brought it into the open now to pressure officials into a new trial for Sheppard.

Bailey described the killer as someone "who walked to and from out of the spotlight of the murder unsuspected."

Sheppard, his wife and his Columbus attorney, Benjamin Clark, appeared in Columbus Friday to post a new $10,000 bond in compliance with a U.S. Sixth Circuit Court of appeals order issued Wednesday in Akron.

That court ordered the new bond after saying it would decide later whether the original federal court order releasing Sheppard from Ohio Penitentiary would stand. The decision may come in October.

The new bond forbids Sheppard from leaving the state without permission of the appeals court or Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court.

City Auto Crash Blamed On Sun

A 1957 sedan driven by Raymond Hess, 52, of 1755 Anderson Blvd. was hit by a 1959 convertible operated by Kenneth B. Ashby, 43, of 945 St. George St. at 3:56 p. m. at the intersection of Virginia Ave. and Fox Alley.

Ashby turned from Virginia Ave. into the alley and hit the Hess car. Ashby told police he was blinded by the sun and did not see the other car, police said.

A car driven by Julie Ann Hall, 21, of Park Way bumped the rear of another operated by Russell E. Dray, 45, of 201 Charles St. Friday at 7:13 p.m. at the intersection of Dresden Ave. and Webber Way.

There was no damage as far as could be determined, the report shows. Dray had halted for the traffic signal.

Sabotage Probe Due In Algiers Port Blaze

ALGIERS (AP)—Government officials are trying to learn whether sabotage was involved in an explosion that sank the Egyptian ship Alexandria and sent flames shooting through the port of Bone.

Unofficial casualty reports ranged widely. The newspaper Alger Republicain said 182 persons were killed in the blast and fire 260 miles east of here Thursday night. The Algerian Defense Ministry said the ship was unloading munitions at Bone.

Defense Budget Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee has recommended an outlay of $46.7 billion for defense for the fiscal year which began July 1. The Senate probably will consider the bill sometime next week. It accounts for almost half of all federal expenditures.

Riots

The police radioed for reinforcements, and the riot erupted in full force.

Some whites joined in the melee. Apparently some tried to aid the police and others were swept into the riot as bystanders.

A reporter said gangs of white teen-agers took advantage of the confusion to join in the looting.

Violence spread quickly through the neighborhood, about two miles square, bounded by Clinton Avenue on the west, Kelly Street on the north, Hudson Avenue on the east and Central Avenue on the south.

An estimated 500 Negroes plunged into the battle. Police sealed off the area and employed tear gas, nightsticks and fire hoses to quell the rioters.

The first detachment of about 100 troopers arrived on the scene this morning, a few hours after City Manager Porter W. Homer declared a state of emergency. The troopers marched four-abreast up Joseph Avenue to Baden Street.

City police said "a couple of thousand" Negroes massed along Joseph Avenue shortly after daybreak. By midmorning, with state troopers patrolling the area, the scene was one of uneasy quiet.

Streets were littered with debris, broken glass. Other groups of Negroes milled about in an apparently still-surly mood.

At the height of the rioting, one Negro was heard to tell another that this is "like a little Harlem" — a reference to the rioting that broke out earlier in the week in New York City in protest over a white policeman's shooting of a Negro youth.

Mrs. Mildred Johnson, a board member of the Rochester chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the rioting was a reaction to long-smoldering resentment over brutality toward Negroes by local police.

Mrs. Johnson told reporters:

"The people are tired of police brutality to any extent and it must be stopped. Either it is stopped or they will use other means, including violence."

Fire

out an area about 15 feet square, firemen said.

Papers had been placed in the incinerator but the door of the device had been left open, causing the fire, firemen said.

Mrs. Raimond, who had been in the family-owned grocery store when the fire broke out, was treated for shock at the scene. Firemen summoned her physician.

Smoke caused most of the damage. Firemen laid 700 feet of 2½ inch hose, and 300 feet of 1½ inch hose. They had two trucks at the scene.

Insects AND YOUR HEALTH

IDEA NOT NEW

The idea of using chemicals to help control insects is not new. The first controls were probably set up about one hundred years ago. Since that time, many, many improvements have been made. The use of pesticides now is common. It is when these pesticides are misused through ignorance or carelessness that ill effects result.

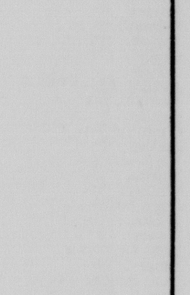

GROWING CONCERN

Public officials, physicians, college agricultural departments, builders and the general public are becoming increasingly aware of the importance of pest control to the community's health and economic benefit. This control is not only a matter of destroying pests that damage homes and other buildings but also a vital means of eradicating insects and vermin that carry and spread diseases.

AN ANSWER

I have been asked by many people why I say on the one hand there is no danger in properly applied pesticides and then ask all members of the household to get out of the house when we are doing a general pest eradication. We do this so we may work more efficiently . . . not because the chemicals could hurt you or your children. After all . . . we stay in the house and apply the chemicals without any ill effects.

MANY THANKS

The many calls I have received from you during this past week are greatly appreciated, remember . . I will be happy to answer your questions anytime. Simply call me at FISHER PEST CONTROL, FUlton 5-5720.

Special Award Presented

62 Graduates Get Caps In Gray Ladies Program

Caps, pins and certificates were presented them by Mrs. Sarah Davis, director of nurses at the hospital, Mrs. Helen Bemis, surgical and medical supervisor; Miss Nell Robinson, hospital administrator; Mrs. Lucille Singer, Grey Lady recorder, and Mrs. Marie Hayes.

Gold discs representing over 2,000 hours of service to area hospitals were awarded to three women who were former Grey Lady graduates — Miss Phyllis Crook of the Osteopathic Hospital, and Miss Lena Palmasino and Mrs. Eva Hilton of City Hospital.

Also presented with a special award was Mrs. Florence Gloeckner of the 1961-62 class. She contributed 1,616 hours of service this year.

Miss Robinson and Dr. Hayes also presented four other formal Grey Lady graduates with silver discs for 1,000 or more hours service. They were Mrs. Ruth Wollam of the Osteopathic Hospital and Miss Mary K. Bryan, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Marion Thompson of City Hospital.

Miss Carolyn Smith of this year's class and Miss Marianne Emmerling of the 1963 class were given special recognition for the greatest number of hours of service when each of them were graduated.

Altogether, the new and past graduates of Grey Ladies chalked up a total of 46,874 hours of service to several hospitals during the past year.

The ceremonies were opened by Harry J. English, local Red Cross chairman, and Miss Robinson. The opening was followed with an address from Mrs. Fred Skinkle, volunteer field consultant of the American Red Cross of Steubenville.

Mrs. Gloeckner, soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Helen Monier. Mrs. Lucile Miraglata was organist.

The procession of graduates was led by Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Bemis. Mrs. Thompson gave an address following the award presentations.

A reception for the 150 persons present followed on the main floor after the award ceremonies which were held in a classroom on the lower floor of the nursing home. Mrs. Evelyn Balser, chairman of the Red Cross Canteen, and her committee were in charge of refreshments.

Sunday, the Grey Ladies will donate 150 dozen cookies which they made to the veterans at the Leech Farm Hospital in Pittsburgh.

Crime

Officers tentatively identified the suspects as Joseph Dunn, 34, Jack P. Plant, alias Charles Kane, 44, and Dennis St. John, alias Roy Kelley, 25, all of Philadelphia, and Thomas Murgson, 28, alias Louis J. Lippolis, 28, of New York City.

In their investigations, officers said they learned that the quartet is wanted for questioning in three states, including Florida, South Carolina and New Jersey.

Officers filed an initial charge against three of the men on suspected larceny of a motor vehicle, when they could not provide papers showing they had legally rented the auto in Pittsburgh.

But the larceny charge was later dropped and the men held for questioning on detainers. They were given hearings before Justice of the Peace Milton Richeal of West Mayfield and committed later to Beaver County Jail.

State Police said the quartet has been in the area about a week, posing as home improvement salesmen. Officers asked that area residents who might have done business with the men contact the State Police Barracks.

Driver Fined $150

LISBON — Ralph Cehrs, 34, of Lisbon R.D. 4 was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three day in jail Friday night by Mayor Dean Stockman for driving while intoxicated. He was cited by Capt. John Varner at 2:30 a.m. Friday.

Hancock Gaming Devices Burned

WEIRTON — State Police destroyed an estimated $1,000 in gaming equipment seized from Hancock County taverns Friday at a dump on Pennsylvania Ave.

The assortment included a poker table and gaming clock seized at the Cactus Bar on Route 30 near Chester, an electric clock at the Holiday Lounge on Route 66 and another from Hilltop Inn on Route 30, and an electric clock and console-type slot machine seized at Club Daily Double on Route 66, all on July 6, 1963.

Fifteen slot machines confiscated in the same State Police raids at American Legion posts in Chester and Newell were ordered returned last year by court order on grounds of illegal seizure.

Postal Contract Ends London Strike Threat

LONDON (AP)—A nationwide strike by Britain's 120,000 mailmen scheduled to start at midnight tonight has been called off.

A settlement reached Friday will provide 6½ per cent pay increases for the mailmen retroactive to January 1. The delivery men and sorters had sought a 10 per cent boost in their basic average wage of 12 pounds ($33.60) a week.

Sheppard

Bailey said this was the first time the theory had been made public. Sheppard said neither he nor any members of his family had heard Bailey's opinion before. The attorney said he brought it into the open now to pressure officials into a new trial for Sheppard.

Bailey described the killer as someone "who walked to and from out of the spotlight of the murder unsuspected."

Sheppard, his wife and his Columbus attorney, Benjamin Clark, appeared in Columbus Friday to post a new $10,000 bond in compliance with a U.S. Sixth Circuit Court of appeals order issued Wednesday in Akron.

That court ordered the new bond after saying it would decide later whether the original federal court order releasing Sheppard from Ohio Penitentiary would stand. The decision may come in October.

The new bond forbids Sheppard from leaving the state without permission of the appeals court or Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court.

City Auto Crash Blamed On Sun

The sun was blamed for one of two minor mishaps investigated Friday by city police.

A 1957 sedan driven by Raymond Hess, 52, of 1755 Anderson Blvd. was hit by a 1959 convertible operated by Kenneth B. Ashby, 43, of 945 St. George St. at 3:56 p. m. at the intersection of Virginia Ave. and Fox Alley.

Ashby turned from Virginia Ave. into the alley and hit the Hess car. Ashby told police he was blinded by the sun and did not see the other car, police said.

A car driven by Julie Ann Hall, 21, of Park Way bumped the rear of another operated by Russell E. Dray, 45, of 201 Charles St. Friday at 7:13 p.m. at the intersection of Dresden Ave. and Webber Way.

There was no damage as far as could be determined, the report shows. Dray had halted for the traffic signal.

American Little League Team Wins, Nationals Beaten

One Of Local Entries Bows To Wellsville

One of East Liverpool's entries won and the other lost as Little League tournament play got under way Friday.

Gaining a berth in the District 4 semi-finals, the American League All-Stars roared past Conotton Valley in their first test last evening at Thompson Park.

An all-star pitching and batting performance by Don Smith carried the locals past their first opponent in flashing style — a three hit, 11-0 shutout victory.

East Liverpool's next opponent is to be determined today and will be one of three teams —North Canton, Massillon Nationals or Dennison. Next game will be Monday night and will be on the road for East Liverpool.

Should East Liverpool triumph Monday for the District 4 championship, they would be accorded a bye and play the winner of the District 3-5 battle.

Wellsville ousted the local National Leaguers from tournament play by posting an 8-2 victory at Wellsville.

Smith scattered three singles against Conotton Valley and was in control throughout. In addition, he had a perfect night at the plate with two hits in two trips, and scored two runs.

Smith allowed only eight runners to reach first and none went past second as the local infield turned in two fast double plays.

East Liverpool shelled Brown and Dowdell for 13 hits. Dowdell looked good in relief for Conotton Valley, allowing only three hits and no runs in two and two-third innings.

The first inning found East Liverpool denting the scoring column when Kemple tripled and scored on a single by Klembara.

In the second, they broke the game open with six runs on a walk, three singles, two doubles and a three-run homer by Kinsey. In the third, the locals scored four runs on three walks, two singles and an error.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW JULY 25, 1964 PAGE 12

Midnite Marauder finished his championship at 9½ months of age with four point major wins each day. He also captured the best of breed at Oneonta and Endicott, N. Y.

Last Sunday at Williamsport, Pa. Gay M'Flame of the Congo took best of winners for a three-point major while Khajahs Gay Melda also owned by the Hamiltons went best of opposite for a three point major.

Legion's Nine Tops Weirton

Miller picked up the win in relief of Woods as the locals started on a new streak. A loss to Cadiz on Thursday had snapped a string of seven straight victories.

Weirton was allowed only six hits by Woods, Miller and Hissom. Post 374 also got six hits off two Weirton pitchers.

Locals Edge Monaca, 5-4

Playing errorless ball in an abbreviated game, Friendly Bowling - Merchants of East Liverpool picked up a 5-4 verdict over Monaca Friday in the Beaver County League.

Tom Linville, who pitched only the first inning and gave up one hit, got the mound victory for Manager John Andrason's locals. Lee hurled in relief, giving up four runs in four innings.

The game went only five innings at Monaca's diamond. Myers and Carnahan had two hits each and Berhar slammed a double for East Liverpool.

Andrason's nine will play a doubleheader at Beaver Falls Sunday, with the first game starting at 1:30. The players are to assemble at Heimie's at noon.

Burbicks Capture Father-And-Son Honors At Club

Don Burbick and son, Navy Lt. Craig Burbick, annexed the Father-Son golf championship of the Country Club with a card of 35 on Friday. Fifty-five players competed.

The Burbicks, veteran golfers, finished four strokes up on two teams that tied for second place in the first division.

Bob Bowersock and Dave Bowersock and J. M. Wells Jr. and J. M. Wells III tied for second with cards of 39.

In the second division, William Pickin and William Pickin Jr. led with 45, followed by William Hocking and Cuppy Hocking, 49. The second division was for sons 12-15 years.

In the third division, Dick Smith Jr. and Dick Smith III swept laurels with a card of 50. They were followed by Dr. A. J. Cloran and Michael Cloran, 53. The third division was for sons 11 years and under.

Winning the "adopted fathers' " division were Bob Putt and Andy Petrick, club pro, with 42, followed by W. B. Laughlin and Steve Pickin, 45.

Andy Petrick belted one 125 yards to win the driving contest on the No. 1 hole for youngsters 11 years and under. Closest to the pin on No. 6 for boys 15 years and under was William Pickin Jr. His tee shot came to rest three feet from the cup.

Girl Wins Court Title

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) —Linda Tuero, a sun-bleached 13-year-old tennis star from New Orleans, won the girls 14-under championship in the National Boys and Girls tennis tournament Friday.

She defeated Connie Capozzi of Middletown, Ohio, 7-5, 6-2.

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The San Francisco Giants, with the help of two of Dodger third baseman Derrell Griffith's four errors rallied for nine runs and went on to a 11-3 victory over Los Angeles Friday night.

The victory kept the second-place Giants two games back of the National League-leading Philadelphia Phillies and once again dropped the Dodgers below the .500 level, 10 games off the pace.

Juan Marichal, who brought his record to 14-5 and beat the Dodgers for the fifth straight time, was locked in a pitching duel with Joe Moeller for five innings in the opener of the three-game series between the two staunch rivals. A crowd of 54,026 was on hand.

Marichal opener the sixth with a single, took third on Harvey Keunn's double and both scored on Hal Lanier's single. Moeller then got two men and seemed to be headed out of the inning as Orlando Cepeda headed a grounder toward Griffith.

Griffith fielded it flawlessly—and threw it away.

Before the inning was over, Moeller was out, Howie Reed was in and so were nine runs.

While the Giants were making the most of some bad throwing, the Phillies made the most of some good throwing by left-hander Chris Short, who spaced six hits and lowered his earned run average to 1.95 in a 9-1 victory over St. Louis.

Third - place Cincinnati remained 4½ games back as Jim O'Toole beat Pittsburgh 2-0 with a four-hitter. Houston shut out the Chicago Cubs 1-0 behind Hal (Skinny) Brown and Jim Owens and the Milwaukee Braves belted the New York Mets 8-5.

Short, now 9-5, pitched Philadelphia's first complete game in three weeks while the Phillies capitalized on four Cardinal errors and three hits by Cookie Rojas.

O'Toole, bringing his record to 11-4, outpitched Bob Friend, 8-10, and singled in a run in the Reds' decisive two-run seventh. Frank Robinson started the rally with a double and came home on Deron Johnson's single. O'Toole drove Johnson home.

Brown, 2-9, allowed seven hits in six innings, then Owens allowed three more in his closing three-inning stint. Singles by Jerry Grote, Bob Lillis and Al Spangler brought in the game's only run in the sixth and tagged Dick Ellsworth, 12-11, with the loss.

Vic Roznovsky stroked three singles for the Cubs, who collected at least one hit in every inning.

Lee Maye drove in three runs for the Braves with a double and two sigles while Gene Oliver also produced three with a homer and double against the Mets.

Rookie Tiant Tosses 2nd Victory For Tribe

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Wally Bunker, 19, and Dave Vineyard, 23, rookie members of the Baltimore pitching staff, hurled the Orioles back into first place in the American League Friday night with 2-1 and 7-2 victories over Washington.

Bunker pitched a five-hitter in the opener, increasing his record to 11-2 and reducing his earned run average to 2.85.

Vineyard bottled up the Senators with an even better performance in the second game. Two doubles in the seventh were the only hits he allowed in his second major league start.

Vineyard and Bunker were not alone in their youthful achievements Friday.

Luis Tiant, another 23-year-old rookie, pitched a six-hitter for his second victory without a defeat as Cleveland whipped Boston 6-1. Bridegroom Bob Chance, 24 and a rookie, drove in four Indian runs.

Then there was 24-year-old rookie John O'Donoghue who stopped Los Angeles 1-0 on six hits.

In other AL games, New York defeated Detroit 6-3 after losing 10-5 and Minnesota stopped an eight-game losing streak with a 6-3 triumph over Chicago.

American Little League Team Wins, Nationals Beaten

One Of Local Entries Bows To Wellsville

One of East Liverpool's entries won and the other lost as Little League tournament play got under way Friday.

Gaining a berth in the District 4 semi-finals, the American League All-Stars roared past Conotton Valley in their first test last evening at Thompson Park.

An all-star pitching and batting performance by Don Smith carried the locals past their first opponent in flashing style — a three hit, 11-0 shutout victory.

East Liverpool's next opponent is to be determined today and will be one of three teams —North Canton, Massillon Nationals or Dennison. Next game will be Monday night and will be on the road for East Liverpool.

Should East Liverpool triumph Monday for the District 4 championship, they would be accorded a bye and play the winner of the District 3-5 battle.

Wellsville ousted the local National Leaguers from tournament play by posting an 8-2 victory at Wellsville.

Smith scattered three singles against Conotton Valley and was in control throughout. In addition, he had a perfect night at the plate with two hits in two trips, and scored two runs.

Smith allowed only eight runners to reach first and none went past second as the local infield turned in two fast double plays.

East Liverpool shelled Brown and Dowdell for 13 hits. Dowdell looked good in relief for Conotton Valley, allowing only three hits and no runs in two and two-third innings.

In the second, they broke the game open with six runs on a walk, three singles, two doubles and a three-run homer by Kinsey. In the third, the locals scored four runs on three walks, two singles and an error.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW JULY 25, 1964 PAGE 12

Midnite Marauder finished his championship at 9½ months of age with four point major wins each day. He also captured the best of breed at Oneonta and Endicott, N. Y.

Legion's Nine Tops Weirton

Miller picked up the win in relief of Woods as the locals started on a new streak. A loss to Cadiz on Thursday had snapped a string of seven straight victories.

Weirton was allowed only six hits by Woods, Miller and Hissom. Post 374 also got six hits off two Weirton pitchers.

Locals Edge Monaca, 5-4

Playing errorless ball in an abbreviated game, Friendly Bowling - Merchants of East Liverpool picked up a 5-4 verdict over Monaca Friday in the Beaver County League.

Tom Linville, who pitched only the first inning and gave up one hit, got the mound victory for Manager John Andrason's locals. Lee hurled in relief, giving up four runs in four innings.

Andrason's nine will play a doubleheader at Beaver Falls Sunday, with the first game starting at 1:30. The players are to assemble at Heimie's at noon.

Burbicks Capture Father-And-Son Honors At Club

Don Burbick and son, Navy Lt. Craig Burbick, annexed the Father-Son golf championship of the Country Club with a card of 35 on Friday. Fifty-five players competed.

The Burbicks, veteran golfers, finished four strokes up on two teams that tied for second place in the first division.

Bob Bowersock and Dave Bowersock and J. M. Wells Jr. and J. M. Wells III tied for second with cards of 39.

In the second division, William Pickin and William Pickin Jr. led with 45, followed by William Hocking and Cuppy Hocking, 49. The second division was for sons 12-15 years.

In the third division, Dick Smith Jr. and Dick Smith III swept laurels with a card of 50. They were followed by Dr. A. J. Cloran and Michael Cloran, 53. The third division was for sons 11 years and under.

Andy Petrick belted one 125 yards to win the driving contest on the No. 1 hole for youngsters 11 years and under. Closest to the pin on No. 6 for boys 15 years and under was William Pickin Jr. His tee shot came to rest three feet from the cup.

Girl Wins Court Title

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) —Linda Tuero, a sun-bleached 13-year-old tennis star from New Orleans, won the girls 14-under championship in the National Boys and Girls tennis tournament Friday.

Reds, Cleveland Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The San Francisco Giants, with the help of two of Dodger third baseman Derrell Griffith's four errors rallied for nine runs and went on to a 11-3 victory over Los Angeles Friday night.

The victory kept the second-place Giants two games back of the National League-leading Philadelphia Phillies and once again dropped the Dodgers below the .500 level, 10 games off the pace.

Juan Marichal, who brought his record to 14-5 and beat the Dodgers for the fifth straight time, was locked in a pitching duel with Joe Moeller for five innings in the opener of the three-game series between the two staunch rivals. A crowd of 54,026 was on hand.

Marichal opener the sixth with a single, took third on Harvey Keunn's double and both scored on Hal Lanier's single. Moeller then got two men and seemed to be headed out of the inning as Orlando Cepeda headed a grounder toward Griffith.

Griffith fielded it flawlessly—and threw it away.

Before the inning was over, Moeller was out, Howie Reed was in and so were nine runs.

While the Giants were making the most of some bad throwing, the Phillies made the most of some good throwing by left-hander Chris Short, who spaced six hits and lowered his earned run average to 1.95 in a 9-1 victory over St. Louis.

Third - place Cincinnati remained 4½ games back as Jim O'Toole beat Pittsburgh 2-0 with a four-hitter. Houston shut out the Chicago Cubs 1-0 behind Hal (Skinny) Brown and Jim Owens and the Milwaukee Braves belted the New York Mets 8-5.

Short, now 9-5, pitched Philadelphia's first complete game in three weeks while the Phillies capitalized on four Cardinal errors and three hits by Cookie Rojas.

O'Toole, bringing his record to 11-4, outpitched Bob Friend, 8-10, and singled in a run in the Reds' decisive two-run seventh. Frank Robinson started the rally with a double and came home on Deron Johnson's single. O'Toole drove Johnson home.

Brown, 2-9, allowed seven hits in six innings, then Owens allowed three more in his closing three-inning stint. Singles by Jerry Grote, Bob Lillis and Al Spangler brought in the game's only run in the sixth and tagged Dick Ellsworth, 12-11, with the loss.

Vic Roznovsky stroked three singles for the Cubs, who collected at least one hit in every inning.

Lee Maye drove in three runs for the Braves with a double and two sigles while Gene Oliver also produced three with a homer and double against the Mets.

Rookie Tiant Tosses 2nd Victory For Tribe

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Wally Bunker, 19, and Dave Vineyard, 23, rookie members of the Baltimore pitching staff, hurled the Orioles back into first place in the American League Friday night with 2-1 and 7-2 victories over Washington.

Bunker pitched a five-hitter in the opener, increasing his record to 11-2 and reducing his earned run average to 2.85.

Vineyard bottled up the Senators with an even better performance in the second game. Two doubles in the seventh were the only hits he allowed in his second major league start.

Luis Tiant, another 23-year-old rookie, pitched a six-hitter for his second victory without a defeat as Cleveland whipped Boston 6-1. Bridegroom Bob Chance, 24 and a rookie, drove in four Indian runs.

Then there was 24-year-old rookie John O'Donoghue who stopped Los Angeles 1-0 on six hits.

In other AL games, New York defeated Detroit 6-3 after losing 10-5 and Minnesota stopped an eight-game losing streak with a 6-3 triumph over Chicago.

Sewer Pipe Worker Hurt

A 27-year-old Wellsville employe of the American Vitrified Products Co. in East End was admitted to City Hospital Friday with a possible fractured left knee while two other adults, three teen-agers and four youngsters were treated for injuries in other mishaps.

Worker Suffers Nuclear Dose In Atomic Accident

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—An atomic technician was in fair condition today after receiving a "large dose" of uranium poisoning in an explosion at a Charlestown, R.I., nuclear plant.

Five other employes at new United Nuclear plant also were hospitalized for observation after the unexplained blast Friday.

Plant physician Dr. Howard Laskey said Robert Peabody, 38, was subjected to the "whole blast" of radiation. Peabody is isolated in an X-ray room where he is being treated by attendants wearing lead gloves.

Plant officials said the effects of the explosion were confined within the plant and there was no outside danger.

City Schools Reduce Number Of 'Dropouts'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Big city school systems have made progress in stemming school cropouts, the National Education Association reported Friday.

A study showed that since 1960 the "holding power" of the large city school systems has risen 2.5 per cent compared with a national increase of 1.6 per cent. The study defined holding power as the ability of schools to keep pupils from a specified grade through graduation.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Stop Overeating And Start Slimming

Ida Jean Kain

Friends, this plan of eating to build healthy leanness is exciting. The objective is to avoid a major overload at any one time. Why is it exciting? It's fairly new. Until the past few years not much has been known about how the rate of calorie ingestion can alter the way foodstuffs are metabolized.

WHEN FOOD is apportioned in small, easily handled loads, energy is provided at an even rate. The body is not overwhelmed with excess food at any one time, and thus the laying down of excess fat in the tissues is avoided. If the grand total of calories for the day is not in excess of your requirements, you cannot weigh more by the scales — but more of your weight will be in body fat. Ask your doctor to explain why this is not in the interest of health.

It makes abiding good sense not to overeat at any one time. Obviously we cannot emulate the day - long nibblers, and always be piece - mealing. But we can learn from the scientific experiments and alter our pattern of eating so as not to cram the major portion of calories into one huge meal.

The daily menus included in this series are within your reducing calorie quotas, and furnish all nutrition essentials. By dividing the calories into three moderate meals, plus an energy boost in the late afternoon, the overload at dinner is avoided.

IT IS WISE strategy to cut ahead of hunger with a protective snack in the late afternoon. If you eat breakfast early and feel hungry in mid - morning, save your fruit juice from the morning meal and have it later. Warning: Be selective in your piece - mealing . . . choose a protective food, not a sweet. A sweet will defeat your purpose.

In planning your own meals, make protein the backbone of each of the three meals, for the timing on protein is particularly important. At the finish of a modest meal, leave the table. Say to yourself, "Anything I eat beyond this will be laid down as fat!" By this plan you retrain your appestat, too.

Take heart from this new approach to weight control. You can lose 2 to 3 pounds a week without going hungry or feeling weak. You'll build healthy leanness.

Breakfast

Orange - grapefruit blend, 4-oz. gl., poached egg on small ground beef pattie, 2 oz., (Mr. Thin slice toast), margarine or butter, ½ pat, hot coffee, black (non - nutritive sweetener). Total calories, 305 for men and 230 for women.

Luncheon

Assorted Salad Plate: Hard cooked egg, luncheon meat—1 slice, mustard, celery stuffed with ¼ cup cottage cheese, tomato slices, rye bread, 1 slice, (Mr.: 2 slices rye bread), butter or margarine, ½ pat, beverage hot or cold (Non -nutritive sweetener). Total calories, 370 for men and 315 for women.

Late - Afternoon Energy Boost

Dinner

Sirloin of beef, brochette with mushrooms & green pepper, baked potato, (Mrs.: ½ potato), margarine or butter, ½ pat, broccoli, large stalk, lemon-butter, 1 tsp., fresh fruit cup. Total calories, 405 for men and 355 for women.

Total calories for the day will be 1165 for men and 985 for women.

Beef brochette. Allow 3 oz. lean sirloin steak per person. Alternate with mushrooms and green pepper strips on skewer. Broil or rotisserie. It's delicious.

Send stamped, self - addressed long envelope for Revised Calorie Chart. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Excessive Sweets Consumed In Summer

If you ran a candy store or soda fountain you would find your business picking up in summer. Children and adults naturally consume more soda pop in summer than in winter. They do get an abundance of liquid during warm weather. But most children consume far too many soft drinks and other sweets in summer. We need to remember that soft drinks usually contain considerable sugar. This sugar may remain a long while in the mouth and between the teeth. So does the excessive sugar found in other sweets heartily consumed by children.

Dr. Garry Myers

When your child sits down to lunch or dinner he may have very little appetite for wholesome food. By checking you may find, during recent hours, he has consumed one or several bottles of soda pop and/or considerable ice cream or other sweets. If your child is overweight, his excessive intake of sweets between meals may be the biggest cause.

—:—

IN ADDITION TO the sugar in his between - meals intake, he may consume soda pop containing considerable caffein or other stimulants. Parents who don't serve coffee to children from 2 to 12, may think nothing of letting these children consume soft drinks with more stimulating ingredients than they would get if they drank several cups of coffee.

This fact helps explain the growing number of jittery, "nervous" youngsters. Imagine a youngster 4, 8, or 10, drinking three or four cups of coffee a day!

Some parents keep the refrigerator well stocked with soft drinks, to which their children may have free access at any time of day. Call to mind the youngster 5 to 12 nearly always guzzling or crunching something at home. Parents may, of course, limit the stock on hand.

Children find it pleasurable to supplement the home supply of soft drinks with outside purchases. Some parents have no idea of the enormous amount of sweets their children may buy this way.

Granted that a limited stock of such sweets at home might be desirable, it may not be easy to control excessive purchases at nearby stores. Parents may, however, exercise reasonable control if they see to it that their children operate on a limited budget allowance.

LET ME SUGGEST that you make a check for a week or two on how much soda pop and other sweets your child actually consumes. Then consider whether or not the amount seems excessive. Talk with your dentist about the problem. If it is excessive, then sit down together, Father and Mother, to work out an effetive plan for limitation. The older your child the harder your task will be.

One difficulty is the prevailing theory and practice of excessive permissiveness in rearing children. Youngsters who for years have been used to having what they want when they want it, won't take kindly to discipline.

Parents with a small baby may be able to train him to accept desirable limitations. It's your child, of course.

My bulletins, "How to Teach Child Meaning of No," "Love and Restraint" and "Allowances," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Elephant 'Toy' Moved At Zoo In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—What's new at the Highland Park Zoo?

It seems that Sally the elephant enjoyed wrapping her trunk around the bright red box. Zoo officials found the alarm box badly loosened Thursday and decided to notify the fire department—before Sally did.

Dayton Man Slain

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Police said Gary M. Siler, 22, of Dayton was stabbed to death Friday night during an argument with his father-in-law, Basil Burnett, 44, at Burnett's home on the city's east side. Burnett was being held pending an investigation.

Court Restricts Driver's Permit In 'Point' Charge

A conditional six-month suspension of his operator's permit was ordered Friday for a Shadyside Ave. man haled before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff under Ohio's 12-point demerit program for so-called habitual traffic offenders.

Judge Chertoff suspended the license of Lawrence Dickey, 43, until Jan. 24, 1965, but said it may be used for "occupational driving provided no further points are incurred."

If Dickey is cited for any traffic offense in the meantime that leads to accumulation of so-called points, the license suspension will be made total through Jan. 24, the court ordered.

Dickey was represented by Atty. George A. Aronson. The hearing was scheduled after the Bureau of Motor Vehicles at Columbus advised the local court Dickey had accumulated 12 points on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol, driving left of center, crashing a traffic signal and speeding.

All four cases were heard by Judge Chertoff in a period between April 28, 1963, and last June 21.

Murder Case Slated

CINCINNATI (AP)—A murder charge against Miss Lucille Ann Williams, 45, is to be considered by the Hamilton County Grand Jury. She is accused of killing her aunt, Mrs. Anna C. Taubald, 79, with a razor blade.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Stop Overeating And Start Slimming

Ida Jean Kain

Friends, this plan of eating to build healthy leanness is exciting. The objective is to avoid a major overload at any one time. Why is it exciting? It's fairly new. Until the past few years not much has been known about how the rate of calorie ingestion can alter the way foodstuffs are metabolized.

WHEN FOOD is apportioned in small, easily handled loads, energy is provided at an even rate. The body is not overwhelmed with excess food at any one time, and thus the laying down of excess fat in the tissues is avoided. If the grand total of calories for the day is not in excess of your requirements, you cannot weigh more by the scales — but more of your weight will be in body fat. Ask your doctor to explain why this is not in the interest of health.

It makes abiding good sense not to overeat at any one time. Obviously we cannot emulate the day - long nibblers, and always be piece - mealing. But we can learn from the scientific experiments and alter our pattern of eating so as not to cram the major portion of calories into one huge meal.

The daily menus included in this series are within your reducing calorie quotas, and furnish all nutrition essentials. By dividing the calories into three moderate meals, plus an energy boost in the late afternoon, the overload at dinner is avoided.

IT IS WISE strategy to cut ahead of hunger with a protective snack in the late afternoon. If you eat breakfast early and feel hungry in mid - morning, save your fruit juice from the morning meal and have it later. Warning: Be selective in your piece - mealing . . . choose a protective food, not a sweet. A sweet will defeat your purpose.

In planning your own meals, make protein the backbone of each of the three meals, for the timing on protein is particularly important. At the finish of a modest meal, leave the table. Say to yourself, "Anything I eat beyond this will be laid down as fat!" By this plan you retrain your appestat, too.

Take heart from this new approach to weight control. You can lose 2 to 3 pounds a week without going hungry or feeling weak. You'll build healthy leanness.

Breakfast

Orange - grapefruit blend, 4-oz. gl., poached egg on small ground beef pattie, 2 oz., (Mr. Thin slice toast), margarine or butter, ½ pat, hot coffee, black (non - nutritive sweetener). Total calories, 305 for men and 230 for women.

Luncheon

Assorted Salad Plate: Hard cooked egg, luncheon meat—1 slice, mustard, celery stuffed with ¼ cup cottage cheese, tomato slices, rye bread, 1 slice, (Mr.: 2 slices rye bread), butter or margarine, ½ pat, beverage hot or cold (Non -nutritive sweetener). Total calories, 370 for men and 315 for women.

Late - Afternoon Energy Boost

Dinner

Sirloin of beef, brochette with mushrooms & green pepper, baked potato, (Mrs.: ½ potato), margarine or butter, ½ pat, broccoli, large stalk, lemon-butter, 1 tsp., fresh fruit cup. Total calories, 405 for men and 355 for women.

Total calories for the day will be 1165 for men and 985 for women.

Beef brochette. Allow 3 oz. lean sirloin steak per person. Alternate with mushrooms and green pepper strips on skewer. Broil or rotisserie. It's delicious.

Send stamped, self - addressed long envelope for Revised Calorie Chart. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Excessive Sweets Consumed In Summer

If you ran a candy store or soda fountain you would find your business picking up in summer. Children and adults naturally consume more soda pop in summer than in winter. They do get an abundance of liquid during warm weather. But most children consume far too many soft drinks and other sweets in summer. We need to remember that soft drinks usually contain considerable sugar. This sugar may remain a long while in the mouth and between the teeth. So does the excessive sugar found in other sweets heartily consumed by children.

Dr. Garry Myers

When your child sits down to lunch or dinner he may have very little appetite for wholesome food. By checking you may find, during recent hours, he has consumed one or several bottles of soda pop and/or considerable ice cream or other sweets. If your child is overweight, his excessive intake of sweets between meals may be the biggest cause.

—:—

IN ADDITION TO the sugar in his between - meals intake, he may consume soda pop containing considerable caffein or other stimulants. Parents who don't serve coffee to children from 2 to 12, may think nothing of letting these children consume soft drinks with more stimulating ingredients than they would get if they drank several cups of coffee.

This fact helps explain the growing number of jittery, "nervous" youngsters. Imagine a youngster 4, 8, or 10, drinking three or four cups of coffee a day!

Some parents keep the refrigerator well stocked with soft drinks, to which their children may have free access at any time of day. Call to mind the youngster 5 to 12 nearly always guzzling or crunching something at home. Parents may, of course, limit the stock on hand.

Children find it pleasurable to supplement the home supply of soft drinks with outside purchases. Some parents have no idea of the enormous amount of sweets their children may buy this way.

Granted that a limited stock of such sweets at home might be desirable, it may not be easy to control excessive purchases at nearby stores. Parents may, however, exercise reasonable control if they see to it that their children operate on a limited budget allowance.

LET ME SUGGEST that you make a check for a week or two on how much soda pop and other sweets your child actually consumes. Then consider whether or not the amount seems excessive. Talk with your dentist about the problem. If it is excessive, then sit down together, Father and Mother, to work out an effetive plan for limitation. The older your child the harder your task will be.

One difficulty is the prevailing theory and practice of excessive permissiveness in rearing children. Youngsters who for years have been used to having what they want when they want it, won't take kindly to discipline.

Parents with a small baby may be able to train him to accept desirable limitations. It's your child, of course.

My bulletins, "How to Teach Child Meaning of No," "Love and Restraint" and "Allowances," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Elephant 'Toy' Moved At Zoo In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—What's new at the Highland Park Zoo?

Well, Friday city firemen had to remove a fire alarm box located six feet outside the elephant cage.

It seems that Sally the elephant enjoyed wrapping her trunk around the bright red box. Zoo officials found the alarm box badly loosened Thursday and decided to notify the fire department—before Sally did.

Dayton Man Slain

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Police said Gary M. Siler, 22, of Dayton was stabbed to death Friday night during an argument with his father-in-law, Basil Burnett, 44, at Burnett's home on the city's east side. Burnett was being held pending an investigation.

Court Restricts Driver's Permit In 'Point' Charge

A conditional six-month suspension of his operator's permit was ordered Friday for a Shadyside Ave. man haled before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff under Ohio's 12-point demerit program for so-called habitual traffic offenders.

Judge Chertoff suspended the license of Lawrence Dickey, 43, until Jan. 24, 1965, but said it may be used for "occupational driving provided no further points are incurred."

If Dickey is cited for any traffic offense in the meantime that leads to accumulation of so-called points, the license suspension will be made total through Jan. 24, the court ordered.

Dickey was represented by Atty. George A. Aronson. The hearing was scheduled after the Bureau of Motor Vehicles at Columbus advised the local court Dickey had accumulated 12 points on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol, driving left of center, crashing a traffic signal and speeding.

All four cases were heard by Judge Chertoff in a period between April 28, 1963, and last June 21.

Murder Case Slated

CINCINNATI (AP)—A murder charge against Miss Lucille Ann Williams, 45, is to be considered by the Hamilton County Grand Jury. She is accused of killing her aunt, Mrs. Anna C. Taubald, 79, with a razor blade.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

On this date in 1944, allied armies, stalled on the Normandy beaches for almost two months, moved inland under a cover of allied fighters and bombers. They advanced near St. Lo, and the next day broke through the German lines.

On this date:

In 1759, Fort Niagara surrendered to the British during the French and Indian War.

In 1868, Wyoming Territory was organized out of parts of what now are the states of Utah, the Dakotas and Idaho.

In 1952, Puerto Rico became a United States commonwealth.

Ten years ago—The Western big three powers were considering a new Soviet proposal for a conference on collective security.

Five years ago—Fice President Richard Nixon toured the Moscow farm and industrial exposition, where he underwent what Westerners said was planned heckling.

One year ago—The United States, Britain and Russia initialed a treaty prohibiting nuclear testing in the atmosphere, outer space and under water.

QUESTION: How does exercise make our bodies grow?

ANSWER: According to scientists, our bodies grow by what happens inside the cells of which these bodies are composed. Each cell takes in materials from the outside, turns them into the wonderful substance "protoplasm." As the cell grows it multiplies by dividing. This process is growth. The materials for growth come from our food. Exercise is a great aid to health and growth because it helps keep the bodily functions on the job. For instance, it causes the heart to pump fast and this in turn keeps the blood circulating at a good lively clip. It is in the blood stream, (1), that the highly important food materials (2) are carried around so that the cells can use them to repair worn out tissue and make more, (3), (4). Exercise also builds larger and stronger muscles; it gives us good posture and keeps our skin a fine healthy color. So many things are done by machine nowadays that we've lost much of the natural exercise we used to have. A few years ago a man would saw a board with a hand saw; now, he's apt to use a power tool. But fortunately, most of us love sports, one of the finest ways to get the exercise we need.

Fire Destroys Disabled Rig

A disabled truck- tractor was destroyed by fire at 4 a.m. today on Route 154 about four miles west of Rogers, according to the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Officers said the rig, owned by Donald Palm of Greensburg (Pa.) R.D. 1, was parked along the highway after it became disabled about five days ago.

James A. Daugherty, 25, of McKeesport the driver, returned early this morning to attempt to start the motor.

While he was working on the rig, the fire broke out beneath the dash. Lisbon firemen were summoned to quell the flames, which completely engulfed the rig.

An East Liverpool man was injured in a two-car crash Friday at 3:20 p.m. on Route 7 at the intersection of Routes 7 and 30.

Officers said a car driven by Robert McQuillan, 40, of Youngstown struck the rear of a halted car operated by Pearl Junkerman, 57, of the Y. & O. Rd.

Roy Mason, 61, of East Liverpool R.D. 2, a passenger in the Junkerman vehicle, suffered a whiplash of the neck and a bump of the head.

The woman had stopped for a stop sign, officers said. McQuillan was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

A car driven by Junior D. Hayer, 39, of Hanlon Station (Pa.) R.D. 1 and a pickup truck driven by Ronald E. Boyd, 49, of Rogers R.D. 1 were involved in a minor collision Friday at 3 p.m. on Route 45 about four miles north of Wellsville.

400 Attend 9th Red Cross Show On WaterSafety

About 400 attended the Red Cross Chapter's ninth annual water safety show at Thompson Park Pool Friday night with about some 530 students participating in the program. Mrs. Maudine Schiff was chairman.

Harry J. English, chapter chairman, was speaker and pointed out the many benefits of the water safety program.

There were numerous demonstrations, including the American crawl, side stroke, breast stroke and elementary stroke. Other features were senior and junior life saving. The adult class swimmers also gave demonstrations. Instructions were given the classes during the summer.

City Scouts' Act Wins

Terry Calhoun, left, and his brother, Randy, talk over some of their experiences at the annual Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., where their talent act won a first-place plaque. The boys left East Liverpool July 15, and returned Friday evening.

They participated in the talent show before the gathering Wednesday evening with a hand-balancing act. The wall-plaque they received is now on display at the County Boy Scout Council office at Lisbon.

They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Calhoun Jr., 409 W. 5th St., and represented Post 12 of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

The boys heard President Lyndon Johnson, but jokingly added that they "got a better view of him" as he flew over in his helicopter than at his speech, as they were seated behind some 20,000 other scouts and had to use field glasses.

Three other city scouts, Bill Brown and Tom Snow, both of Post 12, and Gilbert Richards, attended.

$8,449 Bid Filed In City Building Furnace Project

Homer D. Hoffman of the Lincoln Highway, a plumbing and heating contractor, filed the apparent low bid of $8,449.14 Friday afternoon for renovation of the City Hall heating system and installation of a new incinerator for disposal of waste paper.

Hoffman's bid was one of three submitted to Acting Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, comprising the board of Control.

Proutt Boiler & Heating Co. of Youngstown filed a $14,300 bid. Crogan Plumbing and Heating Supply Co., also of Youngstown, asked $11,946.

The contract will call for two gas-fired cast-iron boilers and the incinerator system.

Hoffman's bid fixed the material cost at $6,499.14 and the labor cost at $1,950.

Slight Easing Of Heat Seen With Showers

There may be slight relief from the torrid heat wave over the weekend, but temperatures were expected to rise into the 90's again today.

The downtown had a warm 70 at 6 a.m. today with a possible high of 92 likely this afternoon. Tonight's low range will be 65 to 72.

Boy Drowns In Lake

Accidental Ruled In Road Fatality

A six-member coroner's jury Thursday night, winding up an inquest of a fatal traffic mishap on the Route 30 Chester Hill July 15, returned a verdict of "accidental death" of Noah Roberts, 59, of Youngstown.

The collision happened when a truck of John Hershberger, 39, of Salineville, R.D. 2, skidded on rain-slicked pavement while coming down the hill, striking a station wagon of Joseph Higbee of Toms River, N.J., and the sedan driven by Mr. Roberts, who were both headed uphill.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies Paul R. Cowey and James Knox testified at the hearing conducted by Coroner John D. Herron of New Cumberland at the Newell fire station.

Serving on the coroner's jury were Tom Bailey, Vernon Betteridge, Catherine Betteridge, Alfred Stevens, Charles Lee and Bob Mercer, all of Newell. The hearing lasted 45 minutes.

45 Attend Christmas Tree Growers Event

James Pendry of Lisbon, secretary - treasurer of the Eastern Ohio Christmas Tree Growers Association, presided.

Speakers were John Hacskalo, forester at the Ohio Agriculture Experiment Station at Wooster, and William LeBold, forester for the Muskingum Conservancy District.

Park To Get Vandal Guard

Wellsville's Hammond Park Commission Friday night voted to continue with the preparation of a site for a trailer home after a Wellsville couple accepted an offer of free space in return for guarding the park.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Byers, who now reside on Nevada St., will move to the park. They will be provided free water and sewage service. A septic tank will be installed. Byers will guard the park to keep down vandalism.

The commission voted to proceed with installation of water lines to both pavilions at an estimated cost of $800. Don Brewer has offered to lay the pipe free of charge and Ellwood Henry has offered to dig part of the ditch.

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare will oversee the work.

The water is being installed as the pump has not proved satisfactory and vandals keep damaging it.

The commission also voted to sponsor the Mills Brothers Circus in early October. Various civic groups will be asked to help with the project.

The commission also discussed holding monthly events at the park next summer in order to create interest.

Lions Hear Talk By Phone Head

Honicky said the most publicized and expanded use of the laser light has been in the field of military operations where working models of "laser guns" have been developed which can completely destroy such small objects.

He added that these laser guns could be enlarged to the point where they would become strong enough to knock aircraft from the sky, blow up tanks on the ground or even disintegrate a person.

Honicky discussed the capabilities of the laser in other fields such as science, industry, medicine and communications.

Committees Of Sweet Adelines Air Projects

Several individual committee sessions followed the meeting of Sweet Adelines, Inc., Friday night at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex.

Mrs. Hilda Edgar, chairman, presided for the discussion of the ways and means committee; Mrs. Nancy Beaver, quartet promotion, and Miss Nancy McBrian, membership.

Mrs. Jan Dietz, president, announced plans for another inter-chapter party Aug. 14 at her home on California Ave., Chester. The Carroll Tones Chapter of Carrollton and the Tri-City Chapter of Sharon have been invited.

Glenn Woods directed the 30 present in a singing session and Mrs. Beaver, assistant director, led a selection.

At Highlandtown Fete

Grange Pair Crowned

Stewart, who will be a sophomore at Southern Local High School this fall, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Stewart of Highlandtown and Miss Hays, who will be a seventh grader at the Highlandtown School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hays of Highlandtown.

The winners were Columbiana County 4-H Band, best band; 1920 Cadillac owned by M. R. Patterson of Salineville, oldest car; Mrs. Marie Black Wilson of Highlandtown, most attractive buggy; Chal Thorn of Highlandtown, most original buggy; Van Swickard of Knoxville, best horse; Junior Smith of Salineville, best comic outfit; Gylettes of Salem and Vi-Lar-Kadets of East Liverpool, best marching units; East Palestine volunteer fire department, longest distance traveled, and West Point department, newest truck.

The parade was led by the Southern Local High School Band. About 6,000 attended.

A power failure interrupted the carnival activities for about 90 minutes. A meter burned out about 9 p.m. The Liverpool Township volunteer department set up its portable generating unit for the eating stand.

The event ends tonight with round and square dancing from 9 to midnight. A matinee was held this afternoon, along with a horse-pull.

Californian Ends Salineville Visit

Miss Judy Newhouse of Los Angeles has concluded a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Newhouse of W. Main St., Salineville. Mrs. Newhouse returned with her to California for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bettis of Elkton has returned after a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bettis and his grandmother, Mrs. Kate Bettis, all of W. Main St.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Simpson and family of Indianapolis, Ind., are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fergason and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Simpson.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fitch and family of Lisbon visited his mother, Mrs. Anna Fitch, of West St. Thursday.

James and Mary Sherwood and Rachel Tobin of East Liverpool visited their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Strabley of W. Main St., Wednesday.

Woman Hurt Mowing; 2 Youngsters Injured

William Cataldo, 2, son of William Cataldo, 1702 Nevada St., Wellsville, cut his forehead when he fell on a cement walk.

State Will Open Bids On County Road Jobs

The State Highway Department said it will open bids at Columbus Aug. 4 on two Columbiana County projects totaling 7.62 miles.

Some 3.9 miles of Route 518 in Madison and Wayne Townships will be resurfaced and 3.72 miles of Route 172 in West and Hanover Townships will receive surface treatment.

New Recon Plane Developed For U.S., Johnson Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has disclosed development of a strategic reconnaissance plane designed to rove anywhere in the world at a height of 15 miles and at a speed three times that of sound.

He sprang the surprise announcement at his news conference Friday, saying the SR71 program involves $1 billion, that the first operational plane will begin flight tests early next year and that delivery of production planes to the Strategic Air Command would follow "shortly thereafter."

The SR71 system "is the most advanced in the world," Johnson said.

His announcement followed by six months his disclosure of the existence of the A-11 warplane, an ultra-high-performance jet fighter, later renamed the YF12-A. About a dozen of those planes were already being tested when Johnson disclosed their existence.

The announcement of the strategic reconnaissance program followed closely criticism by the Republican National Convention of the Democratic administration for what it said was failure to produce any major new weapon system.

At the Pentagon, it was confirmed that the Lockheed Co., which also designed and built the YF12A interceptor, was the prime contractor in the SR71 program. Lockheed also built the U2 reconnaissance plane.

Johnson says the SR71 reconnaissance system "will be used during periods of military hostilities and in other situations in which the United States military forces may be confronting foreign military forces."

110 Hear Rep. Bolton's Talk At Republican Club's Dinner

Rep. Bolton candidate for congressman - at - large, warned that local governing bodies — trustees, city councils, county officials — and state legislators, must reassert their independence and their responsibility.

He asserted that the federal government "cannot do everything at once and there are many things it shouldn't be doing at all."

The speaker was introduced by R. Dale Miller of Lisbon, GOP candidate for county treasurer.

Miss Gladys DeBolt of East Liverpool, county chairwoman, Atty. Charles Pike of Lisbon, county chairman, introduced the other candidates present:

Dean Rose of Lisbon, clerk of courts; Atty. J. Warren Bettis of Salineville, prosecuting attorney; Galen Greenisen of Salem, county commissioner; Richard Brian of East Liverpool, county recorder; Russell VanFossan of East Palestine, sheriff, and Judge Joel H. Sharp of Salem.

Allen J. Dalrymple of Wellsville, congressional candidate, was unable to attend due to a previous committment in Belmont County, but sent a personal letter to all those attending. Ernest Whitacre of Salem, past county GOP chairman, spoke in Dalrymple's behalf.

Dalrymple's letter blasted his opponent, Rep. Wayne L. Hays, claiming that farmers in the 18th District gave him a clear mandate for less government control in agriculture by a vote of 2,349 no to 491 yes and on April 9, but Hays voted for the wheat - cotton bill, helping it squeak through the house 211 to 203.

The name Idaho comes from the Shoshone Indian greeting, "We-dah-how," which means "Look, the sun is coming down the mountains." It was a greeting for morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Byers, who now reside on Nevada St., will move to the park. They will be provided free water and sewage service. A septic tank will be installed. Byers will guard the park to keep down vandalism.

The commission voted to proceed with installation of water lines to both pavilions at an estimated cost of $800. Don Brewer has offered to lay the pipe free of charge and Ellwood Henry has offered to dig part of the ditch.

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare will oversee the work.

The water is being installed as the pump has not proved satisfactory and vandals keep damaging it.

The commission also voted to sponsor the Mills Brothers Circus in early October. Various civic groups will be asked to help with the project.

A discussion was held on flooding a portion of the park in the winter for ice skating.

The commission also discussed holding monthly events at the park next summer in order to create interest.

Lions Hear Talk By Phone Head

Donald Honicky, commercial manager for the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., called it the "weapon of the future" as he discussed the many capabilities of the newly-developed laser light at the luncheon meeting of the Lions Club Friday at Travelers Hotel.

Honicky said the most publicized and expanded use of the laser light has been in the field of military operations where working models of "laser guns" have been developed which can completely destroy such small objects.

He added that these laser guns could be enlarged to the point where they would become strong enough to knock aircraft from the sky, blow up tanks on the ground or even disintegrate a person.

Honicky discussed the capabilities of the laser in other fields such as science, industry, medicine and communications.

Donald Duke, program chairman, introduced Honicky.

Martin also reminded members the annual family picnic will be held Aug. 26 at Thompson Park.

Committees Of Sweet Adelines Air Projects

Several individual committee sessions followed the meeting of Sweet Adelines, Inc., Friday night at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex.

Mrs. Hilda Edgar, chairman, presided for the discussion of the ways and means committee; Mrs. Nancy Beaver, quartet promotion, and Miss Nancy McBrian, membership.

Mrs. Jan Dietz, president, announced plans for another inter-chapter party Aug. 14 at her home on California Ave., Chester. The Carroll Tones Chapter of Carrollton and the Tri-City Chapter of Sharon have been invited.

Glenn Woods directed the 30 present in a singing session and Mrs. Beaver, assistant director, led a selection.

At Highlandtown Fete

Grange Pair Crowned

Stewart, who will be a sophomore at Southern Local High School this fall, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Stewart of Highlandtown and Miss Hays, who will be a seventh grader at the Highlandtown School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hays of Highlandtown.

The winners were Columbiana County 4-H Band, best band; 1920 Cadillac owned by M. R. Patterson of Salineville, oldest car; Mrs. Marie Black Wilson of Highlandtown, most attractive buggy; Chal Thorn of Highlandtown, most original buggy; Van Swickard of Knoxville, best horse; Junior Smith of Salineville, best comic outfit; Gylettes of Salem and Vi-Lar-Kadets of East Liverpool, best marching units; East Palestine volunteer fire department, longest distance traveled, and West Point department, newest truck.

The parade was led by the Southern Local High School Band. About 6,000 attended.

A power failure interrupted the carnival activities for about 90 minutes. A meter burned out about 9 p.m. The Liverpool Township volunteer department set up its portable generating unit for the eating stand.

The event ends tonight with round and square dancing from 9 to midnight. A matinee was held this afternoon, along with a horse-pull.

Californian Ends Salineville Visit

James and Mary Sherwood and Rachel Tobin of East Liverpool visited their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Strabley of W. Main St., Wednesday.

Woman Hurt Mowing; 2 Youngsters Injured

Miss Iva Johnson, 21, daughter of Sam Johnson of 8th Ave., LaCroft, suffered a deep laceration of the right ankle on a piece of wire, apparently thrown from the mower as she was cutting grass last evening.

William Cataldo, 2, son of William Cataldo, 1702 Nevada St., Wellsville, cut his forehead when he fell on a cement walk.

State Will Open Bids On County Road Jobs

The State Highway Department said it will open bids at Columbus Aug. 4 on two Columbiana County projects totaling 7.62 miles.

Some 3.9 miles of Route 518 in Madison and Wayne Townships will be resurfaced and 3.72 miles of Route 172 in West and Hanover Townships will receive surface treatment.

New Recon Plane Developed For U.S., Johnson Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has disclosed development of a strategic reconnaissance plane designed to rove anywhere in the world at a height of 15 miles and at a speed three times that of sound.

He sprang the surprise announcement at his news conference Friday, saying the SR71 program involves $1 billion, that the first operational plane will begin flight tests early next year and that delivery of production planes to the Strategic Air Command would follow "shortly thereafter."

The SR71 system "is the most advanced in the world," Johnson said.

His announcement followed by six months his disclosure of the existence of the A-11 warplane, an ultra-high-performance jet fighter, later renamed the YF12-A. About a dozen of those planes were already being tested when Johnson disclosed their existence.

The announcement of the strategic reconnaissance program followed closely criticism by the Republican National Convention of the Democratic administration for what it said was failure to produce any major new weapon system.

At the Pentagon, it was confirmed that the Lockheed Co., which also designed and built the YF12A interceptor, was the prime contractor in the SR71 program. Lockheed also built the U2 reconnaissance plane.

Johnson says the SR71 reconnaissance system "will be used during periods of military hostilities and in other situations in which the United States military forces may be confronting foreign military forces."

Rep. Bolton candidate for congressman - at - large, warned that local governing bodies — trustees, city councils, county officials — and state legislators, must reassert their independence and their responsibility.

"For every dollar Ohioans get back in so-called federal aid, we send over $1.25 to Washington!" Bolton declared.

The speaker was introduced by R. Dale Miller of Lisbon, GOP candidate for county treasurer.

Miss Gladys DeBolt of East Liverpool, county chairwoman, Atty. Charles Pike of Lisbon, county chairman, introduced the other candidates present:

Dean Rose of Lisbon, clerk of courts; Atty. J. Warren Bettis of Salineville, prosecuting attorney; Galen Greenisen of Salem, county commissioner; Richard Brian of East Liverpool, county recorder; Russell VanFossan of East Palestine, sheriff, and Judge Joel H. Sharp of Salem.

Allen J. Dalrymple of Wellsville, congressional candidate, was unable to attend due to a previous committment in Belmont County, but sent a personal letter to all those attending. Ernest Whitacre of Salem, past county GOP chairman, spoke in Dalrymple's behalf.

Dalrymple's letter blasted his opponent, Rep. Wayne L. Hays, claiming that farmers in the 18th District gave him a clear mandate for less government control in agriculture by a vote of 2,349 no to 491 yes and on April 9, but Hays voted for the wheat - cotton bill, helping it squeak through the house 211 to 203.

The name Idaho comes from the Shoshone Indian greeting, "We-dah-how," which means "Look, the sun is coming down the mountains." It was a greeting for morning.
